Bunche Orders Israel To Quit Negev

Jews Say Plan Of Mediator Is "Unrealistic"

Friday Deadline; Beersheba Would Be Given To Arabs

TEL AVIV, Israel, Nov. 14 (AP)—Jewish authorities said today the acting Palestine mediator has ordered the Israeli government to give up control of the Negev Desert by Friday and return Beersheba to the Arabs.

A Foreign Office spokesman declared bitterly that the order by the mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche, was "astonishing and unrealistic."

What the Jews intend to do about it is not yet clear. Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion called the Israeli Cabinet into special session tonight to discuss the matter. Barely 48 hours earlier the Prime Minister had told newsmen the Jews would not move from the arid Southern Palestine region except by force.

Israel claims the Negev and Beersheba under the year-old United Nations partition plan and hopes by irrigation and modern farming methods to make the southern desert the home of large numbers of Jewish immigrants.

In a series of engagements which began October 14, Israeli forces drove Egyptian troops from the roads which control the Negev and occupied Beersheba, the so-called mother city of the Arab race and the historic southern limit of the Holy Land.

Would Demilitarize Beersheba

Under the Bunche order Beersheba, which now is in the hands of the Israeli army, would be demilitarized and returned to the control of Arab civil administrators, the Israeli spokesman said.

The Arabs would be returned full use of the road from Rafah, on the Egyptian-Palestine border, into the Negev.

The order virtually would demilitarize the entire Negev except for the immediate area of Jewish settlements there, the spokesman added.

(Informants in Paris have explained that the demilitarization procedure generally would require Israeli units to withdraw to positions they held before October 14. Egyptian troops largely would be required to keep their present positions. Thus a large no-man's land would be created between the two armies.

(The Bunche plan is intended to implement the November 4 resolution of the Security Council ordering pacification of the Negev. The Council's action was taken under a section of the United Nations Charter which authorizes the use of anything from a reprimand to armed force against violators.

Sub Wagner Act For T-H, AFL Says

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14—(AP)—Swift repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and automatic substitution of the old Wagner Labor Relations Act was proposed today by the American Federation of Labor Executive Council.

President William Green told a news conference that he thought repeal could be accomplished by March 1.

Although it was Green's impression that the council favored repeal of the one law without regard to how long it would take to write another, several other members of the 15-man council said the policy-making group did not plan to leave a long period without any labor law.

Repeal without an immediate substitute would mean the death of the National Labor Relations Board, the Conciliation Service, and all of the machinery erected in the last 12 years to deal with labor jurisdictional disputes, unfair labor practices and similar problems.

Council members said that they favor the restoration of the Wagner Act, which had been amended by the Taft-Hartley law, and that provision should be made for these points:

1. What to do about national emergency strikes?
2. Reenactment of the requirement that union officers sign non-communist affidavits in order to use the NLRB.
3. Continue the requirement that unions submit financial reports to become eligible for use of the NLRB.
4. Release employers from the legal ban on free speech under the Wagner Act. The Taft-Hartley Act had permitted employers to make speeches to employes so long as there was no coercion or intimidation.

Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin will address the opening of the 67th annual convention here tomorrow.

NO "WITCH HUNTS"—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) yesterday barred "witch hunting" and efforts to "smear somebody" by the top investigating committee in the next Congress. He expects to be chairman of the Senate Committee on Expenditures in Executive Departments.

McClellan Bars "Witch Hunting" By Probe Group

Ark. Senator Due To Head Committee

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) today barred "witch hunting" and efforts "to smear somebody" by the top Senate investigating committee in the next Congress.

He expects to be chairman of the Senate Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments when Democrats take formal control of Congress January 6.

This is the group which conducts most congressional inquiries for the Senate. Its special investigating subcommittee under Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan was a vigorous, and sometimes controversial, body during the two years of GOP control.

No Headline Seeking

As for his own plans, the precise-speaking southern Democrat told a reporter:

"This will not be in the nature of a witch-hunting committee. As far as I am concerned there will be no headline seeking in an effort to smear somebody."

"I am not implying that has been done either by Senate or House committees," he continued, "but I see our job as more supervisory than investigatory. We will carefully check the efficiency and facilities of all government agencies, bureaus and departments."

McClellan is a member of the special commission under former President Hoover which soon will make public full reports on a two-year study on reorganization of many government agencies.

"Lot of Weaknesses"

"There are a lot of weaknesses in our present government organization," the Senator said. "I think we can keep pretty busy trying to correct them. Of course we may run into something that must be exposed in public hearings."

McClellan does not plan to act also as chairman of the Investigating subcommittee which Ferguson headed. He said that Sens. Hoey (D-NC) or O'Conor (D-Md.) are in line for that if they retain their places on the full committee and desire the place.

Newlyweds Are Killed In Crash Of Airplane

BERWICK, Pa., Nov. 14 (AP)—A private, rented airplane crashed into the side of a gully today killing a young couple married only a month ago.

The dead: Jay Snyder and his wife, Phyllis, both 20, of nearby Nescopeck.

Coroner John Evans said Snyder and his wife were to leave this afternoon for Akron, O.—home of the girls parents—where he was to take a job as an apprentice plasterer.

Red Tide Is Turned At Suchow, Chinese Press Reports Say

Army, Navy Order China Aid Speeded

Information From Nanking Says Fall Of City Imminent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Army and Navy have ordered full speed ahead for American arms shipments to China.

To avoid delays from the West Coast shipping strike or other causes, Americna naval and Army vessels will carry weapons, ammunition and military supplies, officials said today.

Many appear deeply pessimistic, however, that the shipments can themselves alter Chinese nationalist chances of halting the Communist advance north of Nanking or elsewhere.

The arms, paid for out of the $125,000,000 Congress voted for Chinese military aid, may fall short of replacing those believed lost by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops in North China and Manchuria. In any event weapons are viewed here as much less important to the Nationalists at this stage than leadership and fighting spirit.

Several Divisions Desert

Between the loss of Tsinan, capital of Shantung Province, and the fall of Mukden in Manchuria a few weeks later, authoritative reports indicate the Nationalists lost more than 30 divisions. Several went over bodily to the Communists.

At least 10 divisions are believed to have had American weapons, supplied when the United States Army trained and partially equipped 39 divisions for Chiang at the close of World War II.

American policy then and since has been to supply Nanking with its marginal needs to keep the upper hand over the Communists. Officials suspect now the margin has been wiped out.

The Communist forces presumably make use of much of the loot, though far from all. Weapons vary in size and have limited value without a continuing supply of ammunition. There is concern now that the same fate of capture may befall some of the latest aid, but authorities made plain it would not delay the effort to bolster Nanking.

Seven-Month Lag

The $125,000,000 for military aid was appropriated by Congress last April 3 at the same time $338,000,000 was earmarked for economic assistance. The first major arms shipments are just now moving.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH), of the joint congressional watchdog committee on foreign aid programs, blames the State Department for the seven-month lag. Diplomatic SHANGHAI, Monday, Nov. 15 (AP)—All Chinese press reports said today mechanized forces under Gen. Chiu Ching-Chuan turned the Communist tide around Suchow Sunday.

These dispatches conflicted with reports in Nanking that Suchow, major government defense point in North Central China and gateway to Nanking, had been isolated by Communist troops, and was ready to fall.

(The Communist radio last night claimed the Reds had encircled Gen. Huang Po-Tao's forces east of Suchow. Previously, the Communists had claimed encirclement of two Nationalist groups east and south of the city.)

Gen. Chiu's army—China's First Mechanized force — broke through Red troops trying to surround it east of Suchow, the Chinese press said, and joined hands with forces of Gen. Huang Po-Tao in the Nienchuang area 33 miles east of Suchow.

There was no official confirmation of the reports.

(Meanwhile, a small detachment of United States Marines arrived by plane in Tientsin from the United States Navy base at Tsingtao. The leathernecks will guard the American consulate and help evacuate Americans from North China. Unrest in Tientsin broke into the open several days ago when Chinese soldiers looted food shops).

Situation Called "Panicky"

Earlier information from Nanking said the Communists were shelling the airport five miles east of Suchow and were only four miles from this last remaining supply link. Suchow is 200 miles northwest of Nanking.

Travelers from Suchow reaching Nanking described the situation as "panicky." It was their impression that Suchow might fall within three or four days, unless the Communists decide to bypass its altogether.

The military situation, as pieced together from various reports of both sides, looked somewhat different in Shanghai. It was this:

The Communists, attacking in strength east and south of Suchow, had "encircled"—or were about to—two government armies under Gens. Huang and Sun Yyan-Liang respectively.

Gen. Chiu's more modern units deployed west of the city had maintained freedom of action, due possibly to superior arms. Sunday, Chiu's forces, with President Chiang Kai-Shek's second son, Col. Chiang Wei-Kuo, second in command, pushed through Suchow to the east. They broke through scattered Red forces in the immediate vicinity of the city to join forces with beleaguered troops of Gen. Huang.

Nationalist Withdrawals Reported

Attleboro, Mass., Housewife Wins $30,200 Jackpot

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—An Attleboro, Mass., housewife tonight won $30,200 in prizes for correctly naming the "mystery melody" on the American Broadcasting Company's "Stop The Music" program.

ABC said the jackpot was the biggest in the history of the "Stop The Music" giveaway show.

Mrs. Edward Easton, a jewelry salesman's wife, Attleboro, identified the program's mystery melody over the telephone as "The Minstrel's Return From The War."

The tune is an 1825-vintage ballad written by John Mills Hewett, known as the father of the American ballad.

The melody first went on the program six weeks ago. Mrs. Easton, 34, was the first person called who identified it correctly.

The program calls contestants at random throughout the country.

N. Y. Mayor, ILA Boss To Confer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Conferences begin tomorrow in an effort to end a dock workers' strike which has halted nearly all overseas shipments from the nation's big East Coast ports.

Mayor William O'Dwyer said today he will confer tomorrow with Joseph P. Ryan, head of the striking AFL International Longshoremen's Association. A total of 65,000 ILA members are out in a pay dispute.

O'Dwyer, successful in negotiating many a strike settlement, is primarily concerned with the 15,000 longshoremen in New York.

But any settlement also would affect the ports of Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Wilmington, Del., and Hampton Roads, Va.

Yesterday the Association of American Railroads placed a ban on nearly all goods bound for overseas from these ports. About 200 ships are tied up as a result of the strike. If it lasts long, Marshall Plan shipments as well as ordinary commercial maritime business will be hard hit.

O'Dwyer said today the city's food and fuel are not at present endangered by the strike.

He offered the full cooperation of the city to the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, which is keeping a close eye on the situation.

Federal mediators got the longshoremen and ship owners together last week after a rank-and-file vote by ILA members rejected a 10-cents-an-hour wage increase offered by the employers. However, the employers refused to raise their offer.

A federal spokesman said today he believed union and employers' spokesmen might be brought together again later this week.

Fighter Runs Wild After Ground Crash Kills Pilot

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 14 (AP)—A P-51 fighter plane with a dead pilot in the cockpit roared out of control on a Stout Field runway today until a state policeman blasted its tires with a riot gun.

The pilot, killed in a ground collision with another plane, was Capt. Philip Bonner, 28, Indianapolis. He was taken to the Indianapolis General Hospital where it was determined that he had been killed instantly by skull fracture.

Col. Allison Maxwell, Lawrence, Ind., commanding the 122nd Fighter Group of the Indiana National Air Guard, gave this report:

Capt. Bonner's plane was the first of four Mustangs preparing to take off on a routine training flight. He started down the runway and then reduced speed for some unknown reason.

Both planes were damaged and skidded to a stop.

"Part of the power was still applied in Capt. Bonner's plane," Col. Maxwell said, "and it started up again. Its right wing was sheared just outboard of the right landing gear, and it made about 20 turns in a tight circle.

"National Guardsmen and state police slowed the plane to some extent by clinging to the left wing, and Trooper Ray Thompson fired pistol bullets through the tires. The plane continued to move, and he stopped it by shooting off the tires with a riot gun. The bare rims mired down in soft ground."

Stalin Expected To Agree Quickly To Berlin Talks

Nature Of Truman's Reply Big Question

PARIS, Nov. 14 (AP) — United Nations officials said privately today they expect Prime Minister Stalin to agree quickly to the appeal of Trygve Lie and Dr. Herbert V. Evatt for Big Four talks to settle the Berlin crisis.

The big question, these officials said, is what reply President Truman will make to the letter sent to the chief executives of the United States, Russia, Britain and France yesterday by the United Nations leaders.

Secretary-General Lie and Assembly President Evatt invoked the Mexican resolution approved recently by the Assembly. This calls for big power cooperation in the solution of world problems and was approved unanimously by the 58 United Nations.

Appeal Aimed At Truman

The Lie-Evatt appeal was aimed directly at Mr. Truman in the hope, expressed privately in United Nations circles, that he would agree to meet Prime Minister Stalin, Prime Minister Attlee and Premier Queuille if he felt the moral weight of the United Nations was behind such a meeting.

The latest word from White House officials was that the President preferred trying to settle disputes through the United Nations rather than through independent talks outside the world organization.

Under the Lie-Evatt proposal and the Mexican resolution, United Nations officials felt Mr. Truman's objections to direct talks might be removed.

These officials, who would not be quoted by name, based their hopes of Stalin's acceptance partly on the prominent display the Soviet press gave to the suggestion of a Washington columnist that Mr. Truman and Stalin should meet.

Election War Factor

There also was the factor of the November 2 American election which some thought probably would influence the attitude of both Stalin and Mr. Truman. The President would be able to go into a meeting with the support of the American voters and with a full four-year term ahead of him. This would dispel any uncertainty Stalin may have had as to whether Mr. Truman spoke for the majority of the American people.

It was really the election which confirmed in the minds of Evatt and Lie the plan they had been considering for the appeal.

Some officials and commentators in Paris said they viewed the Lie-Evatt letter as a victory for Russia.

They point out that the Western Powers have said they would not negotiate the Berlin case under duress of the Berlin blockade. They say the proposal for direct talks actually is an attempt to get the Western Powers to negotiate while the blockade continues.

Royal Doctors Do Better Than U. S. Pollsters

LONDON, Nov. 14 (INS) — United States pollsters could take a lesson in predicting from Princess Elizabeth's doctors.

The royal physicians had set the date for the arrival of the baby somewhere between November 12 and November 16.

The child was born exactly midway between the two dates —November 14.

Red Desertions Suddenly Cease

BERLIN, Nov. 14—(AP)—A small but steady dribble of Russian army deserters into Western Germany has suddenly and unaccountably stopped.

United States Army sources said today they were mystified by the abrupt change.

For a long time, scarcely a week went by without a few Russians "going over the hill." They hid in farmhouses with German girls. Or they came in to the Americans or British and represented themselves as political refugees.

Any estimate of the number would be the purest guess. British officials say there were about 12,000 desertions since 1945 in the Berlin area. American officers say this is as good an estimate as any.

The fact that the flow stopped late in October is intriguing Allied intelligence officers.

"The Russians probably have moved in new troops," said one compétent authority. "When they have been around for a while, living in compounds, and are due to go back to Russia the desertions no doubt will start up again."

Another officer took a different view:

"It may be the new, tighter restrictions that we have heard about. The Russians have clamped down a pretty tough security on their men and at night they practically lock 'em up.

"It is so tight it extends even to the air force. Lately—it may have been a result of those two fliers going to Vienna—they have rationed each pilot just so much gasoline so he can't get too far away. And the NKVD (Soviet secret police) go up in another plane and follow certain planes."

Senate To Have Paper Majority In Favor Of T-H

15 Dems, If They Back Truman, Must Reverse

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Fifteen Senate Democrats will have to do some reversing of the field if they back President Truman's demand the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The 15 Democrats—13 of them from the South—joined with 35 Republicans who will be members of the new Senate, in voting last June 23 to override Mr. Truman's veto of the labor law.

Thus the new Senate still will have a paper majority of 50 to 46 against outright repeal of the act—a move demanded by many union leaders and one that the President told the voters he will ask Congress to make.

McKellar Changes Mind

Few believe that supporters of the act can muster any such majority to prevent changes in its provision. Repeal advocates seem more likely to turn up with the majority.

At least one Democrat who voted to override, Sen. McKellar of Tennessee, already has announced publicly that he has changed his mind and now is for repeal.

The other 14 haven't made their position clear in the aftermath of the election returns.

They include Sens. Hoey of North Carolina, Holland of Florida, Fulbright and McClellan of Arkansas, George and Russell of Georgia, Byrd and Robertson of Virginia, Connally of Texas, Eastland of Mississippi, Ellender of Louisiana, Maybank of South Carolina, and O'Conor and Tydings of Maryland.

Less Difficult Course

Some of these may decide to go along on changes in the law. That would be less difficult politically than to vote for outright repeal of a statute they thought so highly of a few months ago they helped enact it over the President's veto.

Many members of Congress think that instead of just trying to wipe the Taft-Hartley Act off the books, the President will suggest reenactment of the original Wagner Labor Act with some modified provisions of the present law.

Three Unions Attempting To Solve Musician Riddle

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—When is a musician not a musician? What happens when he laughs, or sings, or plays in a night club act?

It started when Radio Comedian Arthur Godfrey declared that anyone can laugh at his jokes—except the musicians on his program.

He said he won't let them laugh any more because it costs too much under union rules.

He said that if the musicians laugh or sing, they will come under the American Federaton of Radio Artists (AFRA), instead of just the AFL Musicians Union.

And that, Godfrey added, would cost nearly $3,000 more a week in pay.

Then, it was disclosed, AFL musicians in four midwestern cities are laying down their instruments at night clubs and entertainments.

They are doing it, according to one union source, because the American Guild of Variety Artists claims jurisdiction over musicians who do other kinds of entertaining - like singing.

This dispute has affected night clubs in Lincoln and Omaha, Nebr., Des Moines, Iowa, and Wichita, Kas.

Officials of the Variety Guild and the musicians union both said the dispute was sectional, and was not expected to spread.

Vincent Lee, Variety Guild representative in Western Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas, said AFL musicians have refused to supply background music for night club acts because the Guild insists certain musicians should join the Variety Guild.

Crowd Waiting Outside Palace Cheers Prince

Baby Who Someday May Become King, Mother Doing Well

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Princess Elizabeth gave birth to a prince tonight who may someday become King of England.

The second-in-line heir-presumptive to the throne was born at 9:14 p. m. (4:14 p. m. Eastern Standard Time).

Buckingham Palace, where the child was born, announced that "her royal highness and her son are both doing well."

The first description of the baby came from an anonymous member of the royal household who was allowed to look at the infant: "A lovely boy, a really splendid baby."

An hour and six minutes after the 22-year-old Princess was delivered of her first-born, a man in evening clothes who was mistaken for the baby's father, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, appeared in the lighted palace courtyeard.

To the huge crowd waiting outside for the joyous news, this was the signal that a child had been born.

Their young Prince was born just six days short of the royal couple's first wedding anniversary—November 20.

Queen Mary First Visitor

As the crowd heard the news, high officials of the royal household, their faces beaming in smiles, watched the crowd's reaction from a palace doorway.

In its brief official announcement, Buckingham Palace said:

"Her royal highness, the Princess Elizabeth, Duchess of Edinburgh, was safely delivered of a prince at 9:14 p. m. today."

The first visitor to the palace after the announcement was made was 81-year-old Queen Mary. As she drove through the palace gates to see her first great grandchild the crowd gave her a tremendous cheer.

From inside the royal apartments word came that as soon as the doctors told him he was a father, Philip rushed in to see his wife. She was still under an anaesthetic. Philip then went to see the baby who had been taken into the palace nursery.

A few minutes later the happy Duke brought the King and Queen in to see their first grandchild. The Queen embraced her son-in-law and the King shook his hand warmly.

Shortly before the announcement of the birth, accredited news reporters at the royal court flashed the news that the Princess was in labor.

The King and Queen and Prince Philip, Elizabeth's husband, were immediately informed of the birth.

The news did not reach the public, however, until almost an hour after the child was born.

Huge Crowd Awaited News

Arrangements were made immediately to post an announcement outside the palace where a huge crowd was waiting for the news.

When the infant was born, Sir Alan Lascelles, the King's secretary, telephoned the news to British Home Secretary Chuter Ede.

Sir Alan also filled in a missing word—denoting the sex of the child—on previously prepared telegrams and filed them at once from the court post office to the governors general of the overseas dominions.

Telephone calls were made at once to Queen Mary, mother of the King, and the new Prince's great grandmother, at nearby Marlborough House.

Noted Sculptor, Wife Murdered

BOCA RATON, Fla., Nov. 14 (AP)—Leno Lazzari, ranked as one of America's best decorative sculptors, and his wife were found murdered and robbed in their studio-home today.

Police Chief W. H. Brown said the bodies were discovered shortly after 1 p. m. (EST), by a friend who was to have been a dinner guest. They had been shot by a rifle or revolver, Lazzari once and Mrs. Lazzari twice, both through the stomach.

Their bodies were sprawled on the floor, some seven or eight feet apart. Lazzari's pockets had been emptied and Mrs. Lazzari's purse was missing, although their watches were still on their wrists.

No weapon was found.

Brown estimated they had been dead about eight hours. The home, part of which is made into a studio, is located about a mile and a half north of the Boca Raton city hall on United States Highway One.

Bunche Orders Israel To Quit Negev

Jews Say Plan Of Mediator Is "Unrealistic"

Coroner John Evans said Snyder and his wife were to leave this afternoon for Akron, O.—home of the girls parents—where he was to take a job as an apprentice plasterer.

Red Tide Is Turned At Suchow, Chinese Press Reports Say

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Army and Navy have ordered full speed ahead for American arms shipments to China.

To avoid delays from the West Coast shipping strike or other causes, Americna naval and Army vessels will carry weapons, ammunition and military supplies, officials said today.

Many appear deeply pessimistic, however, that the shipments can themselves alter Chinese nationalist chances of halting the Communist advance north of Nanking or elsewhere.

The arms, paid for out of the $125,000,000 Congress voted for Chinese military aid, may fall short of replacing those believed lost by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops in North China and Manchuria. In any event weapons are viewed here as much less important to the Nationalists at this stage than leadership and fighting spirit.

Several Divisions Desert

Between the loss of Tsinan, capital of Shantung Province, and the fall of Mukden in Manchuria a few weeks later, authoritative reports indicate the Nationalists lost more than 30 divisions. Several went over bodily to the Communists.

At least 10 divisions are believed to have had American weapons, supplied when the United States Army trained and partially equipped 39 divisions for Chiang at the close of World War II.

American policy then and since has been to supply Nanking with its marginal needs to keep the upper hand over the Communists. Officials suspect now the margin has been wiped out.

The Communist forces presumably make use of much of the loot, though far from all. Weapons vary in size and have limited value without a continuing supply of ammunition. There is concern now that the same fate of capture may befall some of the latest aid, but authorities made plain it would not delay the effort to bolster Nanking.

Seven-Month Lag

The $125,000,000 for military aid was appropriated by Congress last April 3 at the same time $338,000,000 was earmarked for economic assistance. The first major arms shipments are just now moving.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH), of the joint congressional watchdog committee on foreign aid programs, blames the State Department for the seven-month lag. Diplomatic SHANGHAI, Monday, Nov. 15 (AP)—All Chinese press reports said today mechanized forces under Gen. Chiu Ching-Chuan turned the Communist tide around Suchow Sunday.

These dispatches conflicted with reports in Nanking that Suchow, major government defense point in North Central China and gateway to Nanking, had been isolated by Communist troops, and was ready to fall.

(The Communist radio last night claimed the Reds had encircled Gen. Huang Po-Tao's forces east of Suchow. Previously, the Communists had claimed encirclement of two Nationalist groups east and south of the city.)

Gen. Chiu's army—China's First Mechanized force — broke through Red troops trying to surround it east of Suchow, the Chinese press said, and joined hands with forces of Gen. Huang Po-Tao in the Nienchuang area 33 miles east of Suchow.

There was no official confirmation of the reports.

(Meanwhile, a small detachment of United States Marines arrived by plane in Tientsin from the United States Navy base at Tsingtao. The leathernecks will guard the American consulate and help evacuate Americans from North China. Unrest in Tientsin broke into the open several days ago when Chinese soldiers looted food shops).

Situation Called "Panicky"

Earlier information from Nanking said the Communists were shelling the airport five miles east of Suchow and were only four miles from this last remaining supply link. Suchow is 200 miles northwest of Nanking.

Travelers from Suchow reaching Nanking described the situation as "panicky." It was their impression that Suchow might fall within three or four days, unless the Communists decide to bypass its altogether.

The military situation, as pieced together from various reports of both sides, looked somewhat different in Shanghai. It was this:

The Communists, attacking in strength east and south of Suchow, had "encircled"—or were about to—two government armies under Gens. Huang and Sun Yyan-Liang respectively.

Gen. Chiu's more modern units deployed west of the city had maintained freedom of action, due possibly to superior arms. Sunday, Chiu's forces, with President Chiang Kai-Shek's second son, Col. Chiang Wei-Kuo, second in command, pushed through Suchow to the east. They broke through scattered Red forces in the immediate vicinity of the city to join forces with beleaguered troops of Gen. Huang.

Nationalist Withdrawals Reported

Attleboro, Mass., Housewife Wins $30,200 Jackpot

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—An Attleboro, Mass., housewife tonight won $30,200 in prizes for correctly naming the "mystery melody" on the American Broadcasting Company's "Stop The Music" program.

ABC said the jackpot was the biggest in the history of the "Stop The Music" giveaway show.

Mrs. Edward Easton, a jewelry salesman's wife, Attleboro, identified the program's mystery melody over the telephone as "The Minstrel's Return From The War."

The tune is an 1825-vintage ballad written by John Mills Hewett, known as the father of the American ballad.

The melody first went on the program six weeks ago. Mrs. Easton, 34, was the first person called who identified it correctly.

The program calls contestants at random throughout the country.

N. Y. Mayor, ILA Boss To Confer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Conferences begin tomorrow in an effort to end a dock workers' strike which has halted nearly all overseas shipments from the nation's big East Coast ports.

Mayor William O'Dwyer said today he will confer tomorrow with Joseph P. Ryan, head of the striking AFL International Longshoremen's Association. A total of 65,000 ILA members are out in a pay dispute.

But any settlement also would affect the ports of Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Wilmington, Del., and Hampton Roads, Va.

Yesterday the Association of American Railroads placed a ban on nearly all goods bound for overseas from these ports. About 200 ships are tied up as a result of the strike. If it lasts long, Marshall Plan shipments as well as ordinary commercial maritime business will be hard hit.

O'Dwyer said today the city's food and fuel are not at present endangered by the strike.

He offered the full cooperation of the city to the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, which is keeping a close eye on the situation.

Federal mediators got the longshoremen and ship owners together last week after a rank-and-file vote by ILA members rejected a 10-cents-an-hour wage increase offered by the employers. However, the employers refused to raise their offer.

A federal spokesman said today he believed union and employers' spokesmen might be brought together again later this week.

Fighter Runs Wild After Ground Crash Kills Pilot

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 14 (AP)—A P-51 fighter plane with a dead pilot in the cockpit roared out of control on a Stout Field runway today until a state policeman blasted its tires with a riot gun.

The pilot, killed in a ground collision with another plane, was Capt. Philip Bonner, 28, Indianapolis. He was taken to the Indianapolis General Hospital where it was determined that he had been killed instantly by skull fracture.

Col. Allison Maxwell, Lawrence, Ind., commanding the 122nd Fighter Group of the Indiana National Air Guard, gave this report:

Capt. Bonner's plane was the first of four Mustangs preparing to take off on a routine training flight. He started down the runway and then reduced speed for some unknown reason.

Both planes were damaged and skidded to a stop.

"Part of the power was still applied in Capt. Bonner's plane," Col. Maxwell said, "and it started up again. Its right wing was sheared just outboard of the right landing gear, and it made about 20 turns in a tight circle.

"National Guardsmen and state police slowed the plane to some extent by clinging to the left wing, and Trooper Ray Thompson fired pistol bullets through the tires. The plane continued to move, and he stopped it by shooting off the tires with a riot gun. The bare rims mired down in soft ground."

Stalin Expected To Agree Quickly To Berlin Talks

Nature Of Truman's Reply Big Question

PARIS, Nov. 14 (AP) — United Nations officials said privately today they expect Prime Minister Stalin to agree quickly to the appeal of Trygve Lie and Dr. Herbert V. Evatt for Big Four talks to settle the Berlin crisis.

The big question, these officials said, is what reply President Truman will make to the letter sent to the chief executives of the United States, Russia, Britain and France yesterday by the United Nations leaders.

Secretary-General Lie and Assembly President Evatt invoked the Mexican resolution approved recently by the Assembly. This calls for big power cooperation in the solution of world problems and was approved unanimously by the 58 United Nations.

Appeal Aimed At Truman

The Lie-Evatt appeal was aimed directly at Mr. Truman in the hope, expressed privately in United Nations circles, that he would agree to meet Prime Minister Stalin, Prime Minister Attlee and Premier Queuille if he felt the moral weight of the United Nations was behind such a meeting.

The latest word from White House officials was that the President preferred trying to settle disputes through the United Nations rather than through independent talks outside the world organization.

Under the Lie-Evatt proposal and the Mexican resolution, United Nations officials felt Mr. Truman's objections to direct talks might be removed.

These officials, who would not be quoted by name, based their hopes of Stalin's acceptance partly on the prominent display the Soviet press gave to the suggestion of a Washington columnist that Mr. Truman and Stalin should meet.

Election War Factor

There also was the factor of the November 2 American election which some thought probably would influence the attitude of both Stalin and Mr. Truman. The President would be able to go into a meeting with the support of the American voters and with a full four-year term ahead of him. This would dispel any uncertainty Stalin may have had as to whether Mr. Truman spoke for the majority of the American people.

It was really the election which confirmed in the minds of Evatt and Lie the plan they had been considering for the appeal.

Some officials and commentators in Paris said they viewed the Lie-Evatt letter as a victory for Russia.

They point out that the Western Powers have said they would not negotiate the Berlin case under duress of the Berlin blockade. They say the proposal for direct talks actually is an attempt to get the Western Powers to negotiate while the blockade continues.

16 Soccer Players Die

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 14 (AP)—Radio Frankfurt said tonight 16 German soccer players were killed and 22 players injured today when a truck in which they were riding overturned near Breitfurt.

Royal Doctors Do Better Than U. S. Pollsters

LONDON, Nov. 14 (INS) — United States pollsters could take a lesson in predicting from Princess Elizabeth's doctors.

The royal physicians had set the date for the arrival of the baby somewhere between November 12 and November 16.

The child was born exactly midway between the two dates —November 14.

Red Desertions Suddenly Cease

BERLIN, Nov. 14—(AP)—A small but steady dribble of Russian army deserters into Western Germany has suddenly and unaccountably stopped.

United States Army sources said today they were mystified by the abrupt change.

For a long time, scarcely a week went by without a few Russians "going over the hill." They hid in farmhouses with German girls. Or they came in to the Americans or British and represented themselves as political refugees.

Any estimate of the number would be the purest guess. British officials say there were about 12,000 desertions since 1945 in the Berlin area. American officers say this is as good an estimate as any.

The fact that the flow stopped late in October is intriguing Allied intelligence officers.

"The Russians probably have moved in new troops," said one competent authority. "When they have been around for a while, living in compounds, and are due to go back to Russia the desertions no doubt will start up again."

Another officer took a different view:

"It may be the new, tighter restrictions that we have heard about. The Russians have clamped down a pretty tough security on their men and at night they practically lock 'em up.

"It is so tight it extends even to the air force. Lately—it may have been a result of those two fliers going to Vienna—they have rationed each pilot just so much gasoline so he can't get too far away. And the NKVD (Soviet secret police) go up in another plane and follow certain planes."

Senate To Have Paper Majority In Favor Of T-H

15 Dems, If They Back Truman, Must Reverse

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Fifteen Senate Democrats will have to do some reversing of the field if they back President Truman's demand the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The 15 Democrats—13 of them from the South—joined with 35 Republicans who will be members of the new Senate, in voting last June 23 to override Mr. Truman's veto of the labor law.

Thus the new Senate still will have a paper majority of 50 to 46 against outright repeal of the act—a move demanded by many union leaders and one that the President told the voters he will ask Congress to make.

McKellar Changes Mind

Few believe that supporters of the act can muster any such majority to prevent changes in its provision. Repeal advocates seem more likely to turn up with the majority.

At least one Democrat who voted to override, Sen. McKellar of Tennessee, already has announced publicly that he has changed his mind and now is for repeal.

The other 14 haven't made their position clear in the aftermath of the election returns.

They include Sens. Hoey of North Carolina, Holland of Florida, Fulbright and McClellan of Arkansas, George and Russell of Georgia, Byrd and Robertson of Virginia, Connally of Texas, Eastland of Mississippi, Ellender of Louisiana, Maybank of South Carolina, and O'Conor and Tydings of Maryland.

Less Difficult Course

Some of these may decide to go along on changes in the law. That would be less difficult politically than to vote for outright repeal of a statute they thought so highly of a few months ago they helped enact it over the President's veto.

Many members of Congress think that instead of just trying to wipe the Taft-Hartley Act off the books, the President will suggest reenactment of the original Wagner Labor Act with some modified provisions of the present law.

Three Unions Attempting To Solve Musician Riddle

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—When is a musician not a musician? What happens when he laughs, or sings, or plays in a night club act?

It started when Radio Comedian Arthur Godfrey declared that anyone can laugh at his jokes—except the musicians on his program.

He said he won't let them laugh any more because it costs too much under union rules.

He said that if the musicians laugh or sing, they will come under the American Federaton of Radio Artists (AFRA), instead of just the AFL Musicians Union.

And that, Godfrey added, would cost nearly $3,000 more a week in pay.

Then, it was disclosed, AFL musicians in four midwestern cities are laying down their instruments at night clubs and entertainments.

They are doing it, according to one union source, because the American Guild of Variety Artists claims jurisdiction over musicians who do other kinds of entertaining - like singing.

This dispute has affected night clubs in Lincoln and Omaha, Nebr., Des Moines, Iowa, and Wichita, Kas.

Officials of the Variety Guild and the musicians union both said the dispute was sectional, and was not expected to spread.

Vincent Lee, Variety Guild representative in Western Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas, said AFL musicians have refused to supply background music for night club acts because the Guild insists certain musicians should join the Variety Guild.

Crowd Waiting Outside Palace Cheers Prince

Baby Who Someday May Become King, Mother Doing Well

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Princess Elizabeth gave birth to a prince tonight who may someday become King of England.

The second-in-line heir-presumptive to the throne was born at 9:14 p. m. (4:14 p. m. Eastern Standard Time).

Buckingham Palace, where the child was born, announced that "her royal highness and her son are both doing well."

The first description of the baby came from an anonymous member of the royal household who was allowed to look at the infant: "A lovely boy, a really splendid baby."

An hour and six minutes after the 22-year-old Princess was delivered of her first-born, a man in evening clothes who was mistaken for the baby's father, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, appeared in the lighted palace courtyeard.

To the huge crowd waiting outside for the joyous news, this was the signal that a child had been born.

Their young Prince was born just six days short of the royal couple's first wedding anniversary—November 20.

Queen Mary First Visitor

As the crowd heard the news, high officials of the royal household, their faces beaming in smiles, watched the crowd's reaction from a palace doorway.

In its brief official announcement, Buckingham Palace said:

"Her royal highness, the Princess Elizabeth, Duchess of Edinburgh, was safely delivered of a prince at 9:14 p. m. today."

The first visitor to the palace after the announcement was made was 81-year-old Queen Mary. As she drove through the palace gates to see her first great grandchild the crowd gave her a tremendous cheer.

From inside the royal apartments word came that as soon as the doctors told him he was a father, Philip rushed in to see his wife. She was still under an anaesthetic. Philip then went to see the baby who had been taken into the palace nursery.

A few minutes later the happy Duke brought the King and Queen in to see their first grandchild. The Queen embraced her son-in-law and the King shook his hand warmly.

Shortly before the announcement of the birth, accredited news reporters at the royal court flashed the news that the Princess was in labor.

The King and Queen and Prince Philip, Elizabeth's husband, were immediately informed of the birth.

The news did not reach the public, however, until almost an hour after the child was born.

Huge Crowd Awaited News

Arrangements were made immediately to post an announcement outside the palace where a huge crowd was waiting for the news.

When the infant was born, Sir Alan Lascelles, the King's secretary, telephoned the news to British Home Secretary Chuter Ede.

Sir Alan also filled in a missing word—denoting the sex of the child—on previously prepared telegrams and filed them at once from the court post office to the governors general of the overseas dominions.

Telephone calls were made at once to Queen Mary, mother of the King, and the new Prince's great grandmother, at nearby Marlborough House.

Noted Sculptor, Wife Murdered

BOCA RATON, Fla., Nov. 14 (AP)—Leno Lazzari, ranked as one of America's best decorative sculptors, and his wife were found murdered and robbed in their studio-home today.

Police Chief W. H. Brown said the bodies were discovered shortly after 1 p. m. (EST), by a friend who was to have been a dinner guest. They had been shot by a rifle or revolver, Lazzari once and Mrs. Lazzari twice, both through the stomach.

Their bodies were sprawled on the floor, some seven or eight feet apart. Lazzari's pockets had been emptied and Mrs. Lazzari's purse was missing, although their watches were still on their wrists.

No weapon was found.

Brown estimated they had been dead about eight hours. The home, part of which is made into a studio, is located about a mile and a half north of the Boca Raton city hall on United States Highway One.

Phone Rate Increase Plan May Be Delayed

CHARLESTON, W. Va., (AP)—Officers of the State League of Municipalities said they might ask the Public Service Commission to withhold final action on a petition for a telephone rate increase until after January 1.

The commission now has on file a request by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company for authority to introduce a new rate schedule which would, company officials said, mean charges about 40 percent higher than before World War II.

Executive Director Pat E. Malone of the League of Municipalities explained the organization will hold its annual meeting in Clarksburg December 3-4. If the telephone case decision is put off until after the end of the year, he said, the league would have time to review the matter and submit a formal brief on it.

Veteran Funeral Director Of Davis Retires After Career Of 45 Years

L. H. Mott Sells His Business

PARSONS, W. Va.—After conducting several thousand funerals in Davis and other communities during the past 45 years, L. H. Mott, veteran funeral director of Davis, has announced the sale of the business to Wayne C. Spiggle, who has been associated with him for the past 18 years.

In the early days of his career, Mr. Mott used a horse-drawn hearse, with the driver and funeral director usually riding on the high front seat, which was exposed to severe weather.

Matched horses were used, covered with black nets whose tassels reached almost to the ground.

A sudden snowstorm in February, 1908, delayed the burial of Miss Lizzie Lambert, a teacher, for several days, Mr. Mott recalled.

The body was to be taken to Cumberland by train for burial, but snow drifted so high that a passenger train was marooned between Davis and Thomas. Five engines sent to the rescue were all stalled in the drifts. After several days the tracks were cleared, however.

In his long career Mr. Mott conducted the funerals of four presidents of the National Bank of Davis.

Born in Mineral County in 1882, Mr. Mott was graduated from the Cincinnati College of Embalming and entered the funeral and ambulance service in July, 1903.

Active in civic and church affairs, he was mayor of Davis at the age of 23 and later served as town treasurer. He is a charter member of the Davis Board of Trade, now the Chamber of Commerce, as well as of the 32-piece Mountain City Band.

Mr. Mott served several terms on the Board of Education and was a member of the West Virginia Legislature in 1931-32. He is a past president of the West Virginia Funeral Directors' Association.

Prior to his resignation in 1944, Mr. Mott served 32 years as superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School. He still teaches a Bible class and is serving as choir director, trustee of the church, member of the official board and associate lay leader of the Moorefield District.

Veteran Funeral Director Of Davis Retires After Career Of 45 Years

L. H. Mott Sells His Business

PARSONS, W. Va.—After conducting several thousand funerals in Davis and other communities during the past 45 years, L. H. Mott, veteran funeral director of Davis, has announced the sale of the business to Wayne C. Spiggle, who has been associated with him for the past 18 years.

In the early days of his career, Mr. Mott used a horse-drawn hearse, with the driver and funeral director usually riding on the high front seat, which was exposed to severe weather.

Matched horses were used, covered with black nets whose tassels reached almost to the ground.

A sudden snowstorm in February, 1908, delayed the burial of Miss Lizzie Lambert, a teacher, for several days, Mr. Mott recalled.

The body was to be taken to Cumberland by train for burial, but snow drifted so high that a passenger train was marooned between Davis and Thomas. Five engines sent to the rescue were all stalled in the drifts. After several days the tracks were cleared, however.

In his long career Mr. Mott conducted the funerals of four presidents of the National Bank of Davis.

Born in Mineral County in 1882, Mr. Mott was graduated from the Cincinnati College of Embalming and entered the funeral and ambulance service in July, 1903.

Active in civic and church affairs, he was mayor of Davis at the age of 23 and later served as town treasurer. He is a charter member of the Davis Board of Trade, now the Chamber of Commerce, as well as of the 32-piece Mountain City Band.

Mr. Mott served several terms on the Board of Education and was a member of the West Virginia Legislature in 1931-32. He is a past president of the West Virginia Funeral Directors' Association.

Prior to his resignation in 1944, Mr. Mott served 32 years as superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School. He still teaches a Bible class and is serving as choir director, trustee of the church, member of the official board and associate lay leader of the Moorefield District.

If Life Seems Dull These Days, Pick Yourself A Hobby

By NANCY MOTTRAM

Nancy Mottram

Life is dull these days. You're so tired of the everyday routine of school and homework, wondering if you're going to have a date this Saturday night, and talking about the same old things with your best friends that you could scream.

Every single day is almost exactly like the one before, and your constant complaint is that nothing ever happens around here!" There's nothing new to do or say, and although you wouldn't admit it for the world, you're weary of seeing the same old faces week after week. If only something would come along to put a little pep into your deadly dull existence!

Hobbies sound like boring things, and you've never been too interested in joining clubs. Once in a while, you get a spurt of ambition and go out for a new organization or try collecting match covers, but it never lasts for long. None of your friends are deep in the junior side of civic doings and so you just sit around and watch the days go by on the calendar.

But you can find something that will not only occupy all that leisure time, but be fun, too, if you put a little thought on it. You don't have the folding stuff to go into stamp collecting in a big way, and there's no real thrill in starting a collection of colored postcards from all points of the compass. You want something that will hold your interest, and make you want to spend time on it instead of letting your first efforts gather dust.

The most fascinating sideline you can put energy into is something that concerns you directly. You spend a lot of time in your own room, and if you can't walk through that door without looking at blank walls and feeling depressed, it's time to do something about it. There are hundreds of ideas on fixing up your personal living space, and if you are willing to use some brain-power, you can do it without over-reaching your budget, too.

It's a project that won't die out either, if you keep a mental picture of what you want it to be, and put all your plans on paper. Some night when you're at a loss for something to do, hunt for some old magazines and look them over. Get a color scheme in mind and jot down all the hints you find. Then, add some of your own and get busy.

• — • — •

Or you could turn into a camera fiend. Taking pictures of your pals and of anything at all that looks interesting is a wonderful way to spend extra time.

Think of some of the activities you're most interested in and join in. There are organizations around your town that you really might enjoy, if you took a chance on joining. Whether it's a youth forum or a junior political group, it could turn out to be one of your favorite projects. There's no sense in just "sitting around," when you could be having a lot of fun.

Miss Mottram cannot answer all letters personally, but the most important ones will be answered in her column.

Labor Unit Praised For Election Work

The Allegany County unit of the Sixth District section of the Maryland League of United Voters was highly praised at a Hagerstown meeting for its excellent work in the recent election.

W. J. Jones, Cumberland, acting chairman for the district, said all five counties were represented with Allegany having the largest number present.

He said by-laws were discussed and will be up for final adoption at a meeting scheduled for Saturday, January 8, at Hagerstown. Permanent officers will be elected at that time.

The league is planning to take an active part in the coming session of the General Assembly and will be prepared to appeal to the legislators to act favorably on a program backed by labor, Jones stated. He said it is reported a number of anti-labor bills will be presented by other groups.

Besides Jones, who represented Baltimore and Ohio Shop Federation, No. 7, those from the county attending included:

C. E. Stutzman, business agent for the Teamsters Union, and county chairman; Paul L. Burley, Bus Drivers Union, and county secretary; J. T. Defibaugh, secretary of the Allegany Trades Council; P. Patrick Allender and J. F. [illegible] Carpenters Union; Leo McGann, Bus Drivers; John Estes and Lester McGill, Textile Workers; A. E. W. J. Jones, Cumberland, acting chairman for the district, said all five counties were represented with Allegany having the largest number present.

He said by-laws were discussed and will be up for final adoption at a meeting scheduled for Saturday, January 8, at Hagerstown. Permanent officers will be elected at that time.

The league is planning to take an active part in the coming session of the General Assembly and will be prepared to appeal to the legislators to act favorably on a program backed by labor, Jones stated. He said it is reported a number of anti-labor bills will be presented by other groups.

Besides Jones, who represented Baltimore and Ohio Shop Federation, No. 7, those from the county attending included:

C. E. Stutzman, business agent for the Teamsters Union, and county chairman; Paul L. Burley, Bus Drivers Union, and county secretary; J. T. Defibaugh, secretary of the Allegany Trades Council; F. Patrick Allender and J. F. [illegible], Carpenters Union; Leo McGann, Bus Drivers; John Estes and Lester McGill, Textile Workers; A. E. Johnson and Patrick Zembower, Rubber Workers; Wayne Ritchie, Paperworkers; and George W. Conley, Brewery Workers.

Plans are underway for the 1949 Cumberland City Directory, according to H. M. Duncan of R. L. Polk and Company, who said the tentative publication date is next April.

Each new edition of the directory is distributed locally as well as to Chambers of Commerce throughout the country for reference by business men and the general public.

The Move To Exempt All Lodges From Paying Taxes

The tax exemption issue has again reared its pesky head to plague communities that have grown tired of granting exemptions on properties of certain organizations—in this case, fraternal orders and clubs.

It was believed that when the Maryland State Tax Commission ruled that such groups were not entitled to tax exemption, and Cumberland and the County Commissioners had been instructed to restore such properties to the tax books, that a yardstick had been furnished by which all future cases of this kind could be measured, and that the problem had been settled for all time. But it will not be until the appeal taken by several Orders for an interpretation of the law has been acted on by the Court. Neither can we know what that ruling will be nor are we immediately concerned.

What does interest us is the move that has been made to make such exemptions mandatory. Fearing that the State Tax Commission's ruling in the Allegany county cases would be applied to fraternal organizations and Clubs throughout the state, two Baltimore attorneys, representing Masonic Orders, requested the Legislative Council to take steps to have all such groups blanketed into the law which provides for exemption from taxes of hospitals, asylums, churches, charitable and benevolent organizations. They pointed out that such organizations had enjoyed freedom from taxation on their properties for 80 years.

That may be true, but practices followed today as compared to 80 years, or even 25 years ago, are so vastly different that the vast majority of fraternal organizations have removed themselves from the classification they now ask. In those early days they did, in the true sense of the word, follow a strictly benevolent pattern. Meetings, then, were held at regular intervals, and now and then a "smoker" would be arranged for members. But during the time between business and initiation sessions the Lodge rooms were closed. Too, very few, if any, Lodges owned "homes." They rented sufficient rooms to meet their requirements.

Not so today. Clubs have been set up by most fraternal and military organizations. They are gathering places for members any day or night and, in some instances and under certain conditions, on Sundays. These clubs flourished to such an extent that the former purely benevolent Orders began to acquire properties to meet their growing needs. This permitted them to expand the varied services offered within the Club rooms. Bars were enlarged, dining service or lunch counters were added and slot machines, which were the major source of revenue for many years, became part of the equipment. Some have been sponsoring bingo games since the Legislature legalized them,—providing they are conducted in the interest of charity. A portion of the receipts are given for charitable causes, but the percentage of the "take" to be contributed is decided by sponsors of the games and not on any set "split the profits" basis.

That some fraternal organizations may still be entitled to tax exemption, because their customs have not changed materially during the past 80 years, and are still conducted on a exclusive benevolent basis, will not be disputed. But the proposal to give it to those engaged in commercial practices calls for careful study. With them, it is no longer a battle for survival. They are financially strong and will, in all probability, continue so. That is as it should be.

The fact cannot be overlooked, however, that the security they enjoy is made more so by police and fire protection, while they have the benefits of the varied other services provided by the city and county governments with the tax dollars of others. Is there any sound reason why they should not pay their proportionate share in taxes for those things?

Bullitt's Mission To China Is A Lame-Duck One

The journey to China on which William C. Bullitt has embarked must be regarded as a lame-duck mission. The former U. S. Ambassador to Russia and France was asked to make the flying trip by the joint Congressional committee on spending for foreign relief and recovery. But that was a committee of the Republican-controlled Eightieth Congress, which will be superceded in January by the Democratic Eighty-first Congress. Bullitt hopes to be back in this country by Christmas, to report on the needs of China, now faced by the world's worst threat of Communism, and on how the $400,000,000 aid program voted by Congress last April has been carried out. It seems very doubtful, however, that the new Congress will pay much attention to the Bullitt report.

American aid to China looks like a historic example of "Too Late and Too Little." Perhaps it is not yet too late to save China from Communist hordes in the north, if military and economic aid is furnished promptly and with careful supervision. But the odds are against success, and, in the meantime, the policy of official Washington seems to be to give China only enough help to keep American opinion quiet.

Bullitt's mission is not a futile gesture, however. He is an intelligent and keen-sighted observer and a man whose once startling pronouncements about Russia have been proved tragically true. It seems almost certain that his report will not be kept a secret from the public as was General Wedemeyer's findings. Washington officialdom may ignore his report, but millions of worried Americans will be eager to read it. It is expected to give an honest insight into political and economic conditions as they exist today.

Skills For Defense

The federal government, naturally, is relying upon the best skills available in strengthening the country's defense program. Much of what needs to be done in preparation for possible contingencies requires scientific research.

That explains the creation of a new Committee on Chemical Warfare of the Research and Development Board, National Military Establishment, presumably to be known as the CCWRDBNME.

While the nation's leaders are bending their efforts toward the establishment of permanent peace, the U. S. must prepare for defense. By enlisting the services of scientists the government can develop the best program possible.

Control Of Rectal Itching

Itching in and about the anal region is a common complaint. In many instances, the victim does not seek medical aid, preferring to use a proprietary preparation or home remedy. This may offer relief which is only temporary because the original cause is not taken into consideration.

Van Dellen

The condition is more prevalent in the 30 to 50 age group and men seem to be afflicted more frequently than women especially those who are highstrung and work under considerable pressure and tension. There is an overwhelming itching sensation in this area, which turns to a burning type of pain if fissures develop or the region is extremely irritated. It is worse at night, often interfering with sleep. The origin, in such cases, is unkown but is believed to be on a nervous basis.

• — • — •

Itching may originate also from intestinal parasites, and whenever children complain of rectal discomfort, pinworms is the most likely possibility. A fungous invasion must be considered also particularly in adults who perspire profusely. In others, fissures, hemorrhoids, or other lesions exist. Now and then, infection occurs with a discharge that makes the skin raw. Unless corrected, discomfort continues over a period of weeks and months. Allergy is sometimes a factor; the sufferer may be sensitive to chocolate, shellfish, wheat, corn, milk, eggs, etc. All this tends to demonstrate that many causes exist. By submitting to examination, the offending agent frequently can be found. If it can be eliminated, dramatic cure often follows.

Itching may be kept under control temporarily through the employment of an anesthetic or soothing lotion. The local application of a solution of potassium permangenate or powdered calomel is beneficial, particularly when fungeous infection exists. When the disorder appears during or after the menopause, estrogenic ointment may prove helpful. One of the best plans is to acquire the will power not to scratch as this practice induces changes in the skin which tend to prolong the disorder.

Good anal hygiene is always important. In the majority of cases, the sufferer must avoid the use of soap in this area because of its drying effect but if it is utilized, thorough rinsing must follow. The parts can be kept clean with cotton and warm water; the use of toilet tissue or a wash cloth increases the irritation. After drying carefully by patting, not rubbing, a piece of cotton may be inserted to absorb any seretions that may be present.

The prevention of constipation is advised but a smooth bulk laxative is preferred to the oily varieties which have a tendency to escape from the rectum and soil the surrounding area. It is a good rule to avoid spicy foods, alcoholic beverages, nuts, seeds, etc. Certain authorities recommend the injection of alcohol when simpler methods of treatment fail while others feel that the undercutting operation is of tentative benefit. Surgery is usually reserved for those cases in which local rectal conditions are responsible for the itching sensation.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Science is getting ahead of itself. Without waiting for space ships to be invented they've already started making plans for a stop-off station on the route to the moon which would be twenty-four thousand miles from the earth.

I understand the station will be a sort of supply depot and rest area. It will have food, warm clothing and a rehearsal room for crooners.

When they asked for volunteers to live at the space station, they had a real surprise. The first one in line was George Gallup.

A spot twenty - four thousand miles from the earth might be a very exciting place to spend time. Of course, I don't think it'll ever replace Griffith Park.

Naturally, if you lived up there, it wouldn't be hard to spot a suspicious character . . . that would be anybody who knocked on your door and said, "I just happened to be in the neighborhood and thought I'd drop in."

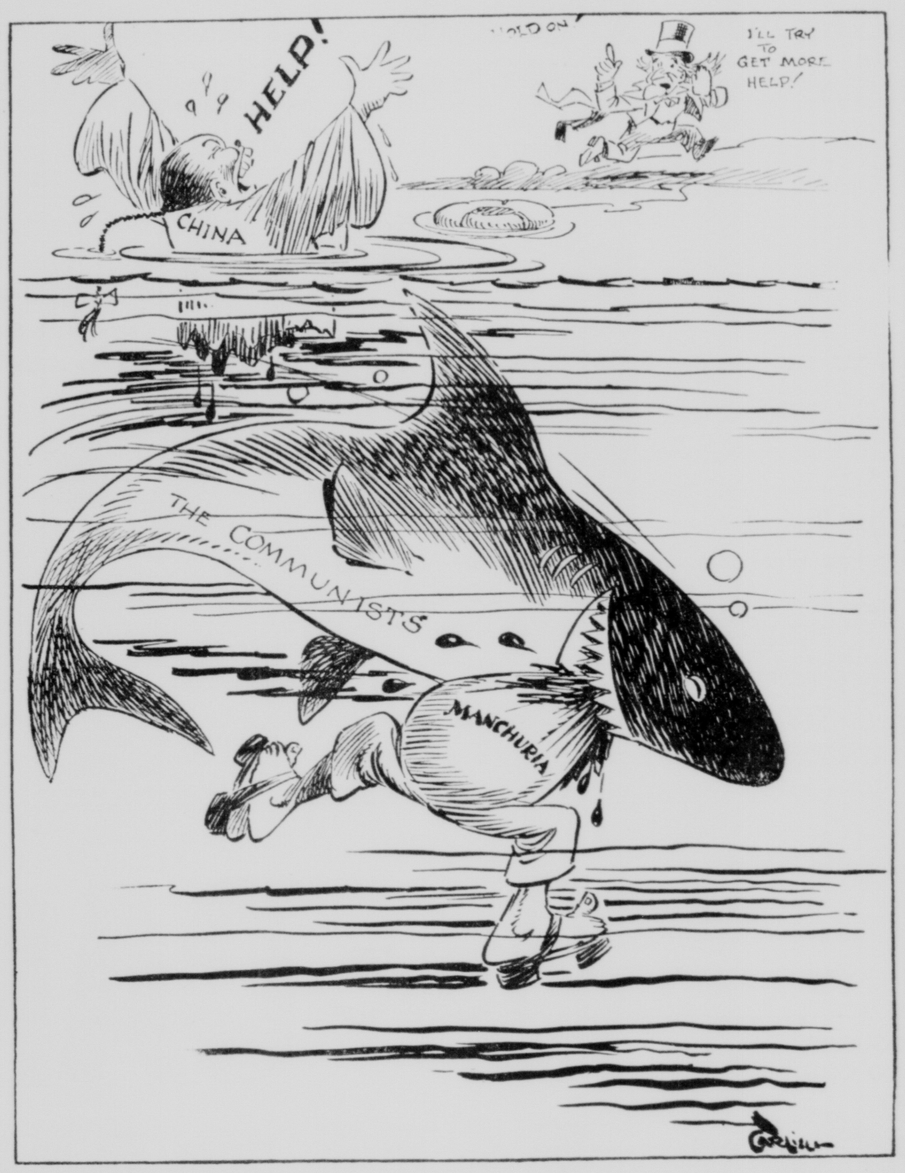
IT'S LATER THAN WE THINK



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Congressman McDowell Pulled a Fast One--And Voters Voted Him Out; Taft-Hartley To Go--No "Amended Down" Version To Result

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Congressman J. "I-refuse-to-testify" Thomas isn't the only member of the House un-American Activities Committee who didn't practcie in his own office what he preached from the Committee rostrum.

Another who pulled a fast one behind the taxpayers' back while investigating un-Americanism in others, was Pennsylvania's outgoing Congressman John McDowell.

Though McDowell didn't take kickbacks, he drew $5,400 annually from the Government to pay a secretary, but used it instead to subsidize a local politician. The salary meant for McDowell's secretary went to the Republican chairman in his home town, Albert E. Beech of Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Beech also serves in the Pennsylvania State Legislature which pays him another $3,000 each session. By profession, he is a commercial photographer. About the only thing he doesn't do is secretarial work for McDowell.

Note—Though McDowell comes from a predominantly Republican district, the voters got wise to him and sent a Democrat to Congress in his place on Nov. 2. More than anyone else, the man who defeated McDowell was a Republican editor—Bert F. Kline, who campaigned against McDowell in the Homestead Messenger and Squirrel Hill News.

Taft-Hartley End

It won't be announced for some time, but here is a digest of backstage planning on the all-important question of banishing the Taft-Hartley Act at the next Congress:

1—After much discussion, the President and his labor advisers have decided that the T-H Act should be repealed en toto, rather than "amended down" into a form acceptable to organized labor.

2—Present plans are to make T-H repeal first on the Administration's list of "must" legislation for the new Congress. In any event, President Truman will request very early action.

3—Since repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act not only will eliminate many of the restrictive curbs on labor, but also wipe out collective-bargaining privileges and other vital sections of the old Wagner Labor Act embodied in it, a complete new bill will have to be drafted for Congressional action.

You can jot it down that this new legislation will, of course, guarantee two main provisions of the Wagner "magna charta" Act—labor's right to join unions of its own choosing and to bargain collectively with employers. It will also provide:

A—The closed shop, banned under the Taft-Hartley Act, will be restored.

B—The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, now an independent agency, will be returned to the Labor Department and given greater latitude in dealing with labor disputs.

C—Presidential fact-finding boards, now limited to probing labor disputes, will be given the power to make recommendations for strike settlement.

Anti-John L. Lewis

There will be some restrictions on labor, yet to be worked out. The President is certain to ask for a ban on both jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. Also, a special section of the new law will deal with strikes that create national emergencies, such as John L. Lewis's tieups of the coal-mining industry.

An extended "cooling-off period," probably as long as 90 days, during which it would be unlawful to strike, may be written into the law. Some of Truman's advisers, however, doubt that this will be enough to cope with Lewis and have been urging that the door be left open for recourse to the courts in national strike emergencies.

President Truman is opposed to the injunction procedure of stopping strikes. At the same time he realizes that court action may be the only means of hobbling unscrupulous labor leaders who endanger the public welfare. This is the toughest section of the bill to be written and the inside betting is that the wastebaskets will overflow with discarded drafts before the White House comes up with the $64 answer.

Timid Judge

U. S. District Judge Walter C. Lindley of Danville, Ill., is one man who didn't bet on President Truman. And it may have cost him promotion to a coveted place on the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Shortly before elections, Attorney General Tom Clark telephoned Judge Lindley, offering him promotion to the Court of Appeals. Judge Lindley was appointed by President Harding, and is a Republican. He has had an excellent record, however, and was picked by the Truman Administration for promotion.

But when the Attorney General told him of the promotion, Judge Lindley hesitated.

"I couldn't take the oath of office now," he said. "You can send me the commission, but I won't say anything about it until after the elections."

Obviously, Judge Lindley figured Truman was going to lose, and he would not be confirmed by the Senate. Now that Truman has won, the Justice Department is not inclined to promote a judge who would not take a chance on Truman.

Election Tallies

There has been a lot of talk about who did and who didn't stand up to be counted for Truman before election. Ex-Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia was in the pro-Truman category, predicted in the Atlantic Monthly in October that Truman would win . . . . Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer also predicted Truman . . . . The man who did most for Truman in downstate Illinois was veteran editor of the Illinois State Register, "Admiral" V. Y. Dallman . . . New York taxi driver Joe Mercurio bet his passengers a gallon of wine each Truman would win. He collected so much wine he could have remained drunk a year—but won't . . . , Ed Lagron, Florida chairman of the Democratic Veterans Affairs Committee, had a hard time raising money for Truman. He needed $1,500 for campaign expenses. So he borrowed $200 from friends, placed it at 7½ to 1 in New York, and thus the Republicans paid the $1,500 for the veteran's Democratic campaign in Florida . . . . U. S. Assistant Attorney General Vincent Quinn resigned a good job in the Justice Department to run for Congress in Queens Borough, New York. He won. The victory is especially significant because Quinn is the man accused by the un-American Activities Committee of failing to prosecute various alleged Communists who worked in the Government during the war. While Quinn won, two leading Republican members of the un-American Committee who criticized him were defeated.

Statistician Gives His After-Election Forecast

By ROGER W. BABSON

NEWYORK, Nov. 14—I am back again in New York City to get the pulse. New York City is no longer the business center of the United States. This has long ago moved to the "Magic Circle," including the states of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri. On the other hand, all merchants, manufacturers and bankers—wherever located—still go to New York City to buy their goods and sell their wares.

Everyone Pessimistic

Whatever the stock market may be doing when you read this column, let me tell you that New York feels bluer today than it has for many years. The people here believe that the Jow-Jones Industrial Averages will gradually now decline to 165 or under. This pessimism not only applies to the stock market, but to general business, agriculture and foreign affairs.

The big interests here not only expect no special favor from the Second Truman Administration, but they are convinced that they will actually be persecuted. They claim that the Raw Deal will take the place of the New Deal, and a businessman will again be abused just because he has been industrious, thrifty and successful. So far as I have been able to hear from friends throughout the country, this change in feeling for the worse is found everywhere.

Truman Opportunity

Most readers of this column little realize the powerful government "Corporations", Commissions, Boards and other Organizations which were instituted under the Roosevelt regime. In fact, these semi-official badies combined actually have more power than Congress itself. As Mr. Roosevelt arranged that the President should have the appointing power to the membership of all these bodies, Mr. Truman now goes into office in his own right with the greatest power, opportunities and responsibilities that any Administration has ever possessed

What About Taxes And Labor?

The Budget will need to be greater during the next few years, but it is entirely possible that adjustments can be made so that this could be accompanied by tax readjustments. For instance, it is possible that with some relief from the double taxation of dividends, more money would come into the Treasury. If such relief comes about, it could help hold up good dividend-paying stocks. There will be no reduction in the capital gains provision; but no further excess profits taxes need be necessary unless we get into war.

New York City is no place to make a forecast on the labor situation. Very few people here are willing to take a broad-minded impartial view. My own feeling is that the New Truman Administration will try not to rock the boat one way or the other. It may ask for some correlation between increased wages and increased production. I know that Mr. Truman personally is interested in the "annual wage" idea, emphasizing the importance of "security" to the wageworker rather than "take home pay." However, the Taft-Hartley Act will be repealed or amended.

European Outlook Improving

Frankly, the election of last week here in the United States was much like the surprise election in England two years ago when the Labor Party there came into power. I doubt how long Mr. Marshall will continue as Secretary of State. General Marshall is a fine man, but he has never had previous experience negotiating. He has always been in a position where he could give orders and expect to have them obeyed. There will be other important cabinet changes.

The group that I worry about under the New Administration is the small businessman. With all the big pressure groups organized, he will have hard-sledding. His hope lies both in better organization, greater efficiency and harder work. He can hold his own with big business, dictatorial labor and selfish politics only by being willing to employ expert advice and cooperative buying. This especially applies to small independent merchants.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Small Wallace Vote

WHY it was assumed in July that Henry Wallace would draw 5,000,000 or more votes, it is hard to say. Why it was assumed that he would draw at least 1,500,000 in New York State, I do not know. But these were the figures bandied about in July and August. Along in the middle of September, the figures began to decrease; then they fell to about half.

I do not know how the expert politicians reach these figures, but the planners of both the Republican and Democratic parties based their campaign plans on these assumptions. Then in late October, the word seemed to be that Wallace would get a small vote. The basic thesis had been that he would have vast Communist and Negro support. On August 31, I wrote a column to say that the Negroes were moving away from Wallace.

The first startling exhibition of a change of attitude toward Wallace was the absence of Vito Marcantonio from the most important Wallace meeting of the campaign, at Madison Square Garden on October 26. Marcantonio gave as his excuse that he had to do his own campaigning, which was a specious statement because he, like other candidates, could have run into Madison Square Garden for half an hour. Other candidates were doing just that. As Marcantonio had never deviated from the straight Kremlin line, even by a hair, I realized then that something was very sour in the Wallace situation.

After the election, all the Stalinist agencies greeted the Truman victory as though it were their own. This was particularly shocking as earlier the Stalinist agencies had attacked Truman even more strongly than Dewey. In fact, the Wallace Party aimed all its shafts at Truman. On November 7 the Daily Worker greeted the Truman victory as evidence that the American people want peace, greater social security, greater democracy. Only the day before Molotov declared:

"The United States elections November 2 gave victory to the Democratic Party and President Truman. The defeat of the Republicans and Dewey, who advanced a frankly reactionary and aggresive program, proved a majority of the Americans reject this program."

One would imagine that Molotov had been supporting Truman and not Wallace and was claiming a victory. The Red Dean of Canterbury, leading Kremlin spokesman in the Anglo-Saxon world, joined the chorus, acclaiming the Truman victory.

On November 8, the Daily Worker carried this item:

"Drew Pearson, syndicated columnist, claimed last night on the radio that a cablegram from Moscow had been 'intercepted' ordering American Communists to 'dump Wallace.'"

This Soviet organ neither denied nor affirmed the Pearson intercept, which must be regarded, therefore, as being confirmed as the party line.

On November 9, Joseph Starobin, leading American Communist writer on foreign affairs, reported from Paris:

"It may sound paradoxical, but left wing and Communist circles in Paris feel a much greater respect for the American people—despite the low Wallace vote—than they did before the elections . . ."

Then this appeared:

"Paris, Nov. 10 (AP)—Well-informed American sources said today that they expected President Truman and Secretary Marshall to confer soon on prospects for entering direct talks with Russia. The object of such talks would be to ease the strain on East-West relations in the world's tension areas."

The reports followed that some plans were afoot for a personal meeting between Truman and Stalin, which the White House aides denied. Also, Tom Clark and other high government officials smilingly attended the Soviet birthday party in Washington. Tris Coffin, of the Washington Times-Herald, took the bull by the horns, sending Stalin a cable asking whether he plans to meet our Harry. No answer.

It is impossible to put all this together at this moment. No conclusion is yet possible except that something was cooking when the President planned to send Mr. Vinson to Moscow—and something is still cooking.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (INS)—If we decide to keep China from going down the drain we must be prepared to spend amounts which will make the mountains of money involved in the Marshall Plan seem like ant hills.

We poured billions into that suffering but curiously light-hearted land in World War II but were hardly able to mount offensives against the Japs half the size of some recent battles involving the forces of Chiang Kai-Shek and the Chinese Reds.

While it seems obvious that we will now do what we can to keep Chiang's side from being pushed out of the land, it should be pointed out that the Chinese are not an especially easy people to help.

No one will ever be able to figure the cost of our "over the hump" operation during the war, when we were forced by Japanese possession of the China ports to fly a great percentage of our aid to China across the Himalayas.

I had a chance to study this operation at close hand at a time, not long before V-J Day, when it had reached its peak. The air between India's Assam Valley airdromes and Kunming shook with countless C-46's and C-54's bulging with supplies. But at its mightiest it was a drop in a yawning bucket of China's needs.

• — • — •

Equally enormous was the cost of building two incredible pipe lines across the Hump, plus the staggering cost of the Burma Road. We were told at the end of the pipe lines, in Kunming, that the aviation and truck gas that poured out of the final nozzles cost us at least $25 a gallon by the time it reached that point.

The pipe lines were too long to police and appalling amounts were lost en route. In forlorn sections of the lines, for instance, the Chinese sometimes made a practice of splitting open the pipes to drain off enough to fill a crude lamp—and let the rest of the liquid platinum stream out on the ground until the break was found and repaired.

At other times the Chinese would break open a pipe and light and toss in a match, then gather by the hundreds at a safe distance to see the pretty light it made.

Chinese drivers along the Burma Road burned out millions of dollars worth of new U. S. trucks by simply forgetting to put oil in the crankcases. There were, also, documented cases of fun-loving Chinese drivers jumping out of their laden trucks at the top of a steep, winding hill—for the thrill of seeing the unmanned truck go tumbling over a cliff.

Our fliers, exhausted by the endless flights over the Himalayas, were considered fair game for any petty thief who came upon them in their bunks as they slept off their weariness. Usually our men pulled all their possessions under the mosquito net of their bunks and embraced them as they slept.

• — • — •

Our ground force officers working with Chiang's army spoke highly of the courage and willingness of the Chinese soldier but wondered how long it would take to train him as American troops are trained.

The Chinese soldier of even as late as 1945, after our investment in him had reached billions of dollars, was still ill-shod, ill-clothed and confused by previous military training from Japanese, Russian and German officers. At a commencement day parade at one of China's West Points we watched graduated cadets goose-step past the reviewing stand wearing German helmets and packs and carrying Russian rifles—while American officers gave orders.

The attitude of the average flier and GI in China was that the Chinese were children, given to all the hapless meanderings of the immature. We forced Chiang, for instance, to punish thieves and smugglers and were horrified when he meted out such punishment as breaking the wrists of petty crooks and executing even a couple of major generals accused of running hot fountain pens and sulpha pills over the Hump.

Our forces in China never could get very angry with the Chinese, not even with the fat cats who lived in luxury around Chiang while the rest of the nation stood in rags. But our mood then was that the place was just too big and its perhaps 500,000,000 souls just too many for any one nation to try to help very effectively.

Yet circumstances now seem to demand that we attempt just that.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

The most interesting—and I believe the happiest—people, are those with a variety of interests to engage their time and strength. Reading and traveling stimulate and enlarge one's interests. So does contact with a large number of human beings in all walks of life. It is inspiring to exchange interests, enlarging them through the process.

We have interests that furnish us the means by which we live as a body, but those interests that stir the mind and bring spiritual peace are the most precious and eternal. And the latter may be had "without money and without price." It's like love in the heart. You can't set a price on anything like that.

All great nature lovers are devout believers in a Supreme Being, for they see Him everywhere about them as they delve into mysteries and meet new interests each day that challenge this fact. Interests actually swarm in nature. Fabre devoted a lifetime to the study of mere insects, bequeathing an enormous amount of knowledge to mankind about these apparently insignificant specimens of life. Many a human lesson may be learned from them, however, as every student of nature has discovered.

I believe that the more interests we have the more alive we become. And the more alive we are, the more new interests are ours. That's the way it works—just like the snowball that gathers bulk and momentum as it is rolled down a hill. The more an investigator gets into his subject the more enthusiastic he becomes for further research.

Keep accumulating interests, so long as they stimulate and give you growth of mind. And even along with this mental gain is the bodily gain, for people are healthy and happy when engaged in work that they like and enjoy. You can't have too many healthy interests.

In every community there are those with many interests who seem to be the ones who "spark" the initiation of every movement there for the benefit of all. And they are usually the busiest ones. It is a bit of fact that if you go to a busy person to get something important done, that person will see that it is done! The one of many interests is the one of action and achievement.

The Move To Exempt All Lodges From Paying Taxes

The tax exemption issue has again reared its pesky head to plague communities that have grown tired of granting exemptions on properties of certain organizations—in this case, fraternal orders and clubs.

It was believed that when the Maryland State Tax Commission ruled that such groups were not entitled to tax exemption, and Cumberland and the County Commissioners had been instructed to restore such properties to the tax books, that a yardstick had been furnished by which all future cases of this kind could be measured, and that the problem had been settled for all time. But it will not be until the appeal taken by several Orders for an interpretation of the law has been acted on by the Court. Neither can we know what that ruling will be nor are we immediately concerned.

What does interest us is the move that has been made to make such exemptions mandatory. Fearing that the State Tax Commission's ruling in the Allegany county cases would be applied to fraternal organizations and Clubs throughout the state, two Baltimore attorneys, representing Masonic Orders, requested the Legislative Council to take steps to have all such groups blanketed into the law which provides for exemption from taxes of hospitals, asylums, churches, charitable and benevolent organizations. They pointed out that such organizations had enjoyed freedom from taxation on their properties for 80 years.

That may be true, but practices followed today as compared to 80 years, or even 25 years ago, are so vastly different that the vast majority of fraternal organizations have removed themselves from the classification they now ask. In those early days they did, in the true sense of the word, follow a strictly benevolent pattern. Meetings, then, were held at regular intervals, and now and then a "smoker" would be arranged for members. But during the time between business and initiation sessions the Lodge rooms were closed. Too, very few, if any, Lodges owned "homes." They rented sufficient rooms to meet their requirements.

Not so today. Clubs have been set up by most fraternal and military organizations. They are gathering places for members any day or night and, in some instances and under certain conditions, on Sundays. These clubs flourished to such an extent that the former purely benevolent Orders began to acquire properties to meet their growing needs. This permitted them to expand the varied services offered within the Club rooms. Bars were enlarged, dining service or lunch counters were added and slot machines, which were the major source of revenue for many years, became part of the equipment. Some have been sponsoring bingo games since the Legislature legalized them,—providing they are conducted in the interest of charity. A portion of the receipts are given for charitable causes, but the percentage of the "take" to be contributed is decided by sponsors of the games and not on any set "split the profits" basis.

That some fraternal organizations may still be entitled to tax exemption, because their customs have not changed materially during the past 80 years, and are still conducted on a exclusive benevolent basis, will not be disputed. But the proposal to give it to those engaged in commercial practices calls for careful study. With them, it is no longer a battle for survival. They are financially strong and will, in all probability, continue so. That is as it should be.

The fact cannot be overlooked, however, that the security they enjoy is made more so by police and fire protection, while they have the benefits of the varied other services provided by the city and county governments with the tax dollars of others. Is there any sound reason why they should not pay their proportionate share in taxes for those things?

Bullitt's Mission To China Is A Lame-Duck One

The journey to China on which William C. Bullitt has embarked must be regarded as a lame-duck mission. The former U. S. Ambassador to Russia and France was asked to make the flying trip by the joint Congressional committee on spending for foreign relief and recovery. But that was a committee of the Republican-controlled Eightieth Congress, which will be superceded in January by the Democratic Eighty-first Congress. Bullitt hopes to be back in this country by Christmas, to report on the needs of China, now faced by the world's worst threat of Communism, and on how the $400,000,000 aid program voted by Congress last April has been carried out. It seems very doubtful, however, that the new Congress will pay much attention to the Bullitt report.

American aid to China looks like a historic example of "Too Late and Too Little." Perhaps it is not yet too late to save China from Communist hordes in the north, if military and economic aid is furnished promptly and with careful supervision. But the odds are against success, and, in the meantime, the policy of official Washington seems to be to give China only enough help to keep American opinion quiet.

Bullitt's mission is not a futile gesture, however. He is an intelligent and keen-sighted observer and a man whose once startling pronouncements about Russia have been proved tragically true. It seems almost certain that his report will not be kept a secret from the public as was General Wedemeyer's findings. Washington officialdom may ignore his report, but millions of worried Americans will be eager to read it. It is expected to give an honest insight into political and economic conditions as they exist today.

Skills For Defense

The federal government, naturally, is relying upon the best skills available in strengthening the country's defense program. Much of what needs to be done in preparation for possible contingencies requires scientific research.

That explains the creation of a new Committee on Chemical Warfare of the Research and Development Board, National Military Establishment, presumably to be known as the CCWRDBNME.

While the nation's leaders are bending their efforts toward the establishment of permanent peace, the U. S. must prepare for defense. By enlisting the services of scientists the government can develop the best program possible.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Control Of Rectal Itching

Itching in and about the anal region is a common complaint. In many instances, the victim does not seek medical aid, preferring to use a proprietary preparation or home remedy. This may offer relief which is only temporary because the original cause is not taken into consideration.

Dr. Van Dellen

The condition is more prevalent in the 30 to 50 age group and men seem to be afflicted more frequently than women especially those who are highstrung and work under considerable pressure and tension. There is an overwhelming itching sensation in this area, which turns to a burning type of pain if fissures develop or the region is extremely irritated. It is worse at night, often interfering with sleep. The origin, in such cases, is unkown but is believed to be on a nervous basis.

• — • — •

Itching may originate also from intestinal parasites, and whenever children complain of rectal discomfort, pinworms is the most likely possibility. A fungous invasion must be considered also particularly in adults who perspire profusely. In others, fissures, hemorrhoids, or other lesions exist. Now and then, infection occurs with a discharge that makes the skin raw. Unless corrected, discomfort continues over a period of weeks and months. Allergy is sometimes a factor; the sufferer may be sensitive to chocolate, shellfish, wheat, corn, milk, eggs, etc. All this tends to demonstrate that many causes exist. By submitting to examination, the offending agent frequently can be found. If it can be eliminated, dramatic cure often follows.

Itching may be kept under control temporarily through the employment of an anesthetic or soothing lotion. The local application of a solution of potassium permangenate or powdered calomel is beneficial, particularly when fungeous infection exists. When the disorder appears during or after the menopause, estrogenic ointment may prove helpful. One of the best plans is to acquire the will power not to scratch as this practice induces changes in the skin which tend to prolong the disorder.

Good anal hygiene is always important. In the majority of cases, the sufferer must avoid the use of soap in this area because of its drying effect but if it is utilized, thorough rinsing must follow. The parts can be kept clean with cotton and warm water; the use of toilet tissue or a wash cloth increases the irritation. After drying carefully by patting, not rubbing, a piece of cotton may be inserted to absorb any seretions that may be present.

The prevention of constipation is advised but a smooth bulk laxative is preferred to the oily varieties which have a tendency to escape from the rectum and soil the surrounding area. It is a good rule to avoid spicy foods, alcoholic beverages, nuts, seeds, etc. Certain authorities recommend the injection of alcohol when simpler methods of treatment fail while others feel that the undercutting operation is of tentative benefit. Surgery is usually reserved for those cases in which local rectal conditions are responsible for the itching sensation.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Science is getting ahead of itself. Without waiting for space ships to be invented they've already started making plans for a stop-off station on the route to the moon which would be twenty-four thousand miles from the earth.

I understand the station will be a sort of supply depot and rest area. It will have food, warm clothing and a rehearsal room for crooners.

When they asked for volunteers to live at the space station, they had a real surprise. The first one in line was George Gallup.

A spot twenty-four thousand miles from the earth might be a very exciting place to spend time. Of course, I don't think it'll ever replace Griffith Park.

Naturally, if you lived up there, it wouldn't be hard to spot a suspicious character . . . that would be anybody who knocked on your door and said, "I just happened to be in the neighborhood and thought I'd drop in."

IT'S LATER THAN WE THINK

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Congressman J. "I-refuse-to-testify" Thomas isn't the only member of the House un-American Activities Committee who didn't practcie in his own office what he preached from the Committee rostrum.

Another who pulled a fast one behind the taxpayers' back while investigating un-Americanism in others, was Pennsylvania's outgoing Congressman John McDowell.

Though McDowell didn't take kickbacks, he drew $5,400 annually from the Government to pay a secretary, but used it instead to subsidize a local politician. The salary meant for McDowell's secretary went to the Republican chairman in his home town, Albert E. Beech of Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Beech also serves in the Pennsylvania State Legislature which pays him another $3,000 each session. By profession, he is a commercial photographer. About the only thing he doesn't do is secretarial work for McDowell.

Note—Though McDowell comes from a predominantly Republican district, the voters got wise to him and sent a Democrat to Congress in his place on Nov. 2. More than anyone else, the man who defeated McDowell was a Republican editor—Bert F. Kline, who campaigned against McDowell in the Homestead Messenger and Squirrel Hill News.

Taft-Hartley End

It won't be announced for some time, but here is a digest of backstage planning on the all-important question of banishing the Taft-Hartley Act at the next Congress:

1—After much discussion, the President and his labor advisers have decided that the T-H Act should be repealed en toto, rather than "amended down" into a form acceptable to organized labor.

2—Present plans are to make T-H repeal first on the Administration's list of "must" legislation for the new Congress. In any event, President Truman will request very early action.

3—Since repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act not only will eliminate many of the restrictive curbs on labor, but also wipe out collective-bargaining privileges and other vital sections of the old Wagner Labor Act embodied in it, a complete new bill will have to be drafted for Congressional action.

You can jot it down that this new legislation will, of course, guarantee two main provisions of the Wagner "magna charta" Act—labor's right to join unions of its own choosing and to bargain collectively with employers. It will also provide:

A—The closed shop, banned under the Taft-Hartley Act, will be restored.

B—The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, now an independent agency, will be returned to the Labor Department and given greater latitude in dealing with labor disputs.

C—Presidential fact-finding boards, now limited to probing labor disputes, will be given the power to make recommendations for strike settlement.

Anti-John L. Lewis

There will be some restrictions on labor, yet to be worked out. The President is certain to ask for a ban on both jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. Also, a special section of the new law will deal with strikes that create national emergencies, such as John L. Lewis's tieups of the coal-mining industry.

An extended "cooling-off period," probably as long as 90 days, during which it would be unlawful to strike, may be written into the law. Some of Truman's advisers, however, doubt that this will be enough to cope with Lewis and have been urging that the door be left open for recourse to the courts in national strike emergencies.

President Truman is opposed to the injunction procedure of stopping strikes. At the same time he realizes that court action may be the only means of hobbling unscrupulous labor leaders who endanger the public welfare. This is the toughest section of the bill to be written and the inside betting is that the wastebaskets will overflow with discarded drafts before the White House comes up with the $64 answer.

Timid Judge

U. S. District Judge Walter C. Lindley of Danville, Ill., is one man who didn't bet on President Truman. And it may have cost him promotion to a coveted place on the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Shortly before elections, Attorney General Tom Clark telephoned Judge Lindley, offering him promotion to the Court of Appeals. Judge Lindley was appointed by President Harding, and is a Republican. He has had an excellent record, however, and was picked by the Truman Administration for promotion.

But when the Attorney General told him of the promotion, Judge Lindley hesitated.

"I couldn't take the oath of office now," he said. "You can send me the commission, but I won't say anything about it until after the elections."

Obviously, Judge Lindley figured Truman was going to lose, and he would not be confirmed by the Senate. Now that Truman has won, the Justice Department is not inclined to promote a judge who would not take a chance on Truman.

Election Tallies

There has been a lot of talk about who did and who didn't stand up to be counted for Truman before election. Ex-Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia was in the pro-Truman category, predicted in the Atlantic Monthly in October that Truman would win . . . . Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer also predicted Truman . . . . The man who did most for Truman in downstate Illinois was veteran editor of the Illinois State Register, "Admiral" V. Y. Dallman . . . New York taxi driver Joe Mercurio bet his passengers a gallon of wine each Truman would win. He collected so much wine he could have remained drunk a year—but won't . . . . Ed Lagron, Florida chairman of the Democratic Veterans Affairs Committee, had a hard time raising money for Truman. He needed $1,500 for campaign expenses. So he borrowed $200 from friends, placed it at 7½ to 1 in New York, and thus the Republicans paid the $1,500 for the veteran's Democratic campaign in Florida . . . . U. S. Assistant Attorney General Vincent Quinn resigned a good job in the Justice Department to run for Congress in Queens Borough, New York. He won. The victory is especially significant because Quinn is the man accused by the un-American Activities Committee of failing to prosecute various alleged Communists who worked in the Government during the war. While Quinn won, two leading Republican members of the un-American Committee who criticized him were defeated.

Statistician Gives His After-Election Forecast

By ROGER W. BABSON

NE WYORK, Nov. 14—I am back again in New York City to get the pulse. New York City is no longer the business center of the United States. This has long ago moved to the "Magic Circle," including the states of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri. On the other hand, all merchants, manufacturers and bankers—wherever located—still go to New York City to buy their goods and sell their wares.

Everyone Pessimistic

Whatever the stock market may be doing when you read this column, let me tell you that New York feels bluer today than it has for many years. The people here believe that the Dow-Jones Industrial Averages will gradually now decline to 165 or under. This pessimism not only applies to the stock market, but to general business, agriculture and foreign affairs.

The big interests here not only expect no special favor from the Second Truman Administration, but they are convinced that they will actually be persecuted. They claim that the Raw Deal will take the place of the New Deal, and a businessman will again be abused just because he has been industrious, thrifty and successful. So far as I have been able to hear from friends throughout the country, this change in feeling for the worse is found everywhere.

Truman Opportunity

Most readers of this column little realize the powerful government "Corporations", Commissions, Boards and other Organizations which were instituted under the Roosevelt regime. In fact, these semi-official badies combined actually have more power than Congress itself. As Mr. Roosevelt arranged that the President should have the appointing power to the membership of all these bodies, Mr. Truman now goes into office in his own right with the greatest power, opportunities and responsibilities that any Administration has ever possessed

What About Taxes And Labor?

The Budget will need to be greater during the next few years, but it is entirely possible that adjustments can be made so that this could be accompanied by tax readjustments. For instance, it is possible that with some relief from the double taxation of dividends, more money would come into the Treasury. If such relief comes about, it could help hold up good dividend-paying stocks. There will be no reduction in the capital gains provision; but no further excess profits taxes need be necessary unless we get into war.

New York City is no place to make a forecast on the labor situation. Very few people here are willing to take a broad-minded impartial view. My own feeling is that the New Truman Administration will try not to rock the boat one way or the other. It may ask for some correlation between increased wages and increased production. I know that Mr. Truman personally is interested in the "annual wage" idea, emphasizing the importance of "security" to the wageworker rather than "take home pay." However, the Taft-Hartley Act will be repealed or amended.

European Outlook Improving

Frankly, the election of last week here in the United States was much like the surprise election in England two years ago when the Labor Party there came into power. I doubt how long Mr. Marshall will continue as Secretary of State. General Marshall is a fine man, but he has never had previous experience negotiating. He has always been in a position where he could give orders and expect to have them obeyed. There will be other important cabinet changes.

The group that I worry about under the New Administration is the small businessman. With all the big pressure groups organized, he will have hard-sledding. His hope lies both in better organization, greater efficiency and harder work. He can hold his own with big business, dictatorial labor and selfish politics only by being willing to employ expert advice and cooperative buying. This especially applies to small independent merchants.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Small Wallace Vote

WHY it was assumed in July that Henry Wallace would draw 5,000,000 or more votes, it is hard to say. Why it was assumed that he would draw at least 1,500,000 in New York State, I do not know. But these were the figures bandied about in July and August. Along in the middle of September, the figures began to decrease; then they fell to about half.

I do not know how the expert politicians reach these figures, but the planners of both the Republican and Democratic parties based their campaign plans on these assumptions. Then in late October, the word seemed to be that Wallace would get a small vote. The basic thesis had been that he would have vast Communist and Negro support. On August 31, I wrote a column to say that the Negroes were moving away from Wallace.

The first startling exhibition of a change of attitude toward Wallace was the absence of Vito Marcantonio from the most important Wallace meeting of the campaign, at Madison Square Garden on October 26. Marcantonio gave as his excuse that he had to do his own campaigning, which was a specious statement because he, like other candidates, could have run into Madison Square Garden for half an hour. Other candidates were doing just that. As Marcantonio had never deviated from the straight Kremlin line, even by a hair, I realized then that something was very sour in the Wallace situation.

After the election, all the Stalinist agencies greeted the Truman victory as though it were their own. This was particularly shocking as earlier the Stalinist agencies had attacked Truman even more strongly than Dewey. In fact, the Wallace Party aimed all its shafts at Truman. On November 7 the Daily Worker greeted the Truman victory as evidence that the American people want peace, greater social security, greater democracy. Only the day before Molotov declared:

"The United States elections November 2 gave victory to the Democratic Party and President Truman. The defeat of the Republicans and Dewey, who advanced a frankly reactionary and aggresive program, proved a majority of the Americans reject this program."

One would imagine that Molotov had been supporting Truman and not Wallace and was claiming a victory. The Red Dean of Canterbury, leading Kremlin spokesman in the Anglo-Saxon world, joined the chorus, acclaiming the Truman victory.

On November 8, the Daily Worker carried this item:

"Drew Pearson, syndicated columnist, claimed last night on the radio that a cablegram from Moscow had been 'intercepted' ordering American Communists to 'dump Wallace.'"

This Soviet organ neither denied nor affirmed the Pearson intercept, which must be regarded, therefore, as being confirmed as the party line.

On November 9, Joseph Starobin, leading American Communist writer on foreign affairs, reported from Paris:

"It may sound paradoxical, but left wing and Communist circles in Paris feel a much greater respect for the American people—despite the low Wallace vote—than they did before the elections . . ."

Then this appeared:

"Paris, Nov. 10 (AP)—Well-informed American sources said today that they expected President Truman and Secretary Marshall to confer soon on prospects for entering direct talks with Russia. The object of such talks would be to ease the strain on East-West relations in the world's tension areas."

The reports followed that some plans were afoot for a personal meeting between Truman and Stalin, which the White House aides denied. Also, Tom Clark and other high government officials smilingly attended the Soviet birthday party in Washington. Tris Coffin, of the Washington Times-Herald, took the bull by the horns, sending Stalin a cable asking whether he plans to meet our Harry. No answer.

It is impossible to put all this together at this moment. No conclusion is yet possible except that something was cooking when the President planned to send Mr. Vinson to Moscow—and something is still cooking.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (INS)—If we decide to keep China from going down the drain we must be prepared to spend amounts which will make the mountains of money involved in the Marshall Plan seem like ant hills.

We poured billions into that suffering but curiously light-hearted land in World War II but were hardly able to mount offensives against the Japs half the size of some recent battles involving the forces of Chiang Kai-Shek and the Chinese Reds.

While it seems obvious that we will now do what we can to keep Chiang's side from being pushed out of the land, it should be pointed out that the Chinese are not an especially easy people to help.

No one will ever be able to figure the cost of our "over the hump" operation during the war, when we were forced by Japanese possession of the China ports to fly a great percentage of our aid to China across the Himalayas.

I had a chance to study this operation at close hand at a time, not long before V-J Day, when it had reached its peak. The air between India's Assam Valley airdromes and Kunming shook with countless C-46's and C-54's bulging with supplies. But at its mightiest it was a drop in a yawning bucket of China's needs.

• — • — •

Equally enormous was the cost of building two incredible pipe lines across the Hump, plus the staggering cost of the Burma Road. We were told at the end of the pipe lines, in Kunming, that the aviation and truck gas that poured out of the final nozzles cost us at least $25 a gallon by the time it reached that point.

The pipe lines were too long to police and appalling amounts were lost en route. In forlorn sections of the lines, for instance, the Chinese sometimes made a practice of splitting open the pipes to drain off enough to fill a crude lamp—and let the rest of the liquid platinum stream out on the ground until the break was found and repaired.

At other times the Chinese would break open a pipe and light and toss in a match, then gather by the hundreds at a safe distance to see the pretty light it made.

Chinese drivers along the Burma Road burned out millions of dollars worth of new U. S. trucks by simply forgetting to put oil in the crankcases. There were, also, documented cases of fun-loving Chinese drivers jumping out of their laden trucks at the top of a steep, winding hill—for the thrill of seeing the unmanned truck go tumbling over a cliff.

Our fliers, exhausted by the endless flights over the Himalayas, were considered fair game for any petty thief who came upon them in their bunks as they slept off their weariness. Usually our men pulled all their possessions under the mosquito net of their bunks and embraced them as they slept.

• — • — •

Our ground force officers working with Chiang's army spoke highly of the courage and willingness of the Chinese soldier but wondered how long it would take to train him as American troops are trained.

The Chinese soldier of even as late as 1945, after our investment in him had reached billions of dollars, was still ill-shod, ill-clothed and confused by previous military training from Japanese, Russian and German officers. At a commencement day parade at one of China's West Points we watched graduated cadets goose-step past the reviewing stand wearing German helmets and packs and carrying Russian rifles—while American officers gave orders.

The attitude of the average flier and GI in China was that the Chinese were children, given to all the hapless meanderings of the immature. We forced Chiang, for instance, to punish thieves and smugglers and were horrified when he meted out such punishment as breaking the wrists of petty crooks and executing even a couple of major generals accused of running hot fountain pens and sulpha pills over the Hump.

Our forces in China never could get very angry with the Chinese, not even with the fat cats who lived in luxury around Chiang while the rest of the nation stood in rags. But our mood then was that the place was just too big and its perhaps 500,000,000 souls just too many for any one nation to try to help very effectively.

Yet circumstances now seem to demand that we attempt just that.

Many a human lesson may be learned from them, however, as every student of nature has discovered.

I believe that the more interests we have the more alive we become. And the more alive we are, the more new interests are ours. That's the way it works—just like the snowball that gathers bulk and momentum as it is rolled down a hill. The more an investigator gets into his subject the more enthusiastic he becomes for further research.

Keep accumulating interests, so long as they stimulate and give you growth of mind. And even along with this mental gain is the bodily gain, for people are healthy and happy when engaged in work that they like and enjoy. You can't have too many healthy interests.

In every community there are those with many interests who seem to be the ones who "spark" the initiation of every movement there for the benefit of all. And they are usually the busiest ones. It is a bit of fact that if you go to a busy person to get something important done, that person will see that it is done! The one of many interests is the one of action and achievement.

Crowd Waiting

younger sister, who is spending the weekend out of town with the Earl and Countess of Scarborough, also was told at once.

The policeman then quickly walked to the iron railings against which the crowd was tightly packed and declared exultantly:

"It's a boy" Then throwing his head back and shouting, he yelled: "A prince has been born!"

Like wildfire the word spread in all directions. Tears welled in many eyes. Cheers rippled through the air to shatter the Sunday night stillness.

The news that Elizabeth's child was a son told the normally stolid Londoners what they wanted to hear—that the royal heir was a child who might someday be their king.

estine where Israeli troops also scored recent victories. The council also might consider Bunche's proposal asking the Jews and Arabs to work toward replacing the present Palestine truce with an armistice.)

Commenting on the Negev order, the Israeli spokesman said:

"In this unreasonable, unrealistic order Dr. Bunche seems to be assuming the prerogatives of God—to raise the dead. The Egyptians have been defeated and beaten out of all this territory.

"This was Jewish state territory. The Egyptians entered as invaders. Now seemingly they are to be brought back to the scene of their aggression—and their defeat—oddly enough under the flag of the United Nations."

The informant said that even if the Arabs were to be given Beersheba in violation of the United Nation's own partition plan, he could not understand why Bunche said the Egyptians were to control it.

"Abdullah (King of Trans-Jordan) may want to have something to say about that," he observed.

The Egyptians moved into Southern Palestine last spring and at one time advanced up the coast to within 20 miles of Tel Aviv, the Israeli capital.

They also moved inland in a broad wedge through Beersheba to Jerusalem, isolating the Jewish settlements in the Negev.

In their lightning campaign last month Israeli troops wiped out that wedge and forced the Egyptians to fall back along the coast to the area of Gaza.

Safety Rules For Hunters Are Suggested

With hunting season for small game open, and deer season the first full week in December only a couple of weeks away, the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission has issued the following safety reminders:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the bolt open, into your automobile, camp or home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and bolt are clear of obstruction.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Thus far this season, Maryland has not had a single hunting fatality. Game wardens and other officials urge all hunters and sportsmen to keep the record clean this year.

Red Tide

Indications are that Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, North China commander, is deploying his troops for defense of the principal cities, such as Peiping, Tientsin and Tangshan, major coal center. In doing so, he apparently will make no great effort to defense points like Paoting.

The Shanghai newspaper Sun Pao reported government troops had "voluntarily evacuated" Chengteh, Jehol Province capital. Provincial officials fled to Miyuan, inside the Great Wall. Mobs looted Chengteh, said the newspaper, until the Reds occupied it three days ago.

Why another increase in telephone rates is necessary

Here are the facts:

1 Everybody wants good telephone service

The people of Maryland want and need the best possible telephone service—and enough of it—at the lowest possible cost. It is the responsibility of the telephone company to see that they get it.

2 But it costs more today to provide it

Telephone costs, like those of every other business, have gone up. Recent wage increases, together with the rising costs of materials and supplies, have brought telephone expenses to an all-time high. Construction costs, also, continue at record-high levels.

3 Rate increases have been kept low

Rising costs forced us to ask the Public Service Commission for increased rates in December, 1946—our first request in 21 years. But in the public's interest, we asked for only the bare minimum required at that time.

The rate increases granted are less than we asked for and much less than needed to meet today's increased costs of operation.

Telephone rates in Maryland have gone up, on the average, less than 20%. Isn't that pretty low compared to the increases in most of the things you buy?

4 More than $60,000,000 already spent—$60,000,000 more needed for better telephone service

We have spent over $60,000,000 since V-J Day to expand telephone facilities and improve telephone service in an effort to meet your requirements. And we must spend $60,000,000 more in the next few years to meet public demand for service. These huge sums are necessary to provide dial service, more individual lines for party-line customers, faster local and long distance service and better service in rural areas.

5 Where will the money come from?

Most of our income goes to meet our day-by-day operating costs. But there must be enough left to pay a fair and reasonable return to investors—the people whose money is used to build telephone facilities. Otherwise, these people will not continue to put their savings into the telephone business.

Our earnings under the rate increases granted are insufficient to attract the additional capital needed. And, without the investors' dollars, we cannot put up the buildings and add the equipment we need to meet your demands for telephone service.

6 Good service at fair rates is in the public interest

We don't like to have to ask for higher telephone rates. But there is no other course open to us. Our financial situation is such that there is no margin in our earnings to absorb today's high operating costs.

Telephone service must not become a bottleneck—it must help the growth and industrial development of the state. It must keep pace with the growing needs of Maryland—and of your community!

Our job is to furnish the people of Maryland with the amount and kind of telephone service they want and need. We are asking for only enough to do that job—and no more.

Allegany Hospital admitted a 65-year-old woman, Maggie Ingles, 232 Baltimore Avenue, for examination yesterday. She complained of back and right hip injuries she said were received in a fall down steps at her home. Her condition is good.

Two other accident cases were treated at the same hospital. Margaret Shaffer, 19, of Hyndman, Pa., a waitress in a local restaurant, cut her right fifth finger on a glass.

A Queen City Brewery worker, Clyde Appold, of 1126 Bedford Street, had X-rays taken of his chest which he told attendents he hurt in a fall at work.

Philip Hamilton, this city, was treated in Allegany Hospital last night for a laceration of the head. He was taken to the hospital by city police who said he was injured in a fall on Bedford Road.

Tiger Escapes From His Cage, Claws Zoo Official

STONEHAM, Mass., Nov. 14 (AP)—A full-grown male tiger today broke loose from his cage in the midst of 150 persons at the Spot Pond Zoo and clawed a zoo official before he was trapped and shot by police.

James McCarthy, 57, assistant curator of the zoo, suffered a compound fracture of the right arm and several deep face cuts while trying vainly to hold the cage door shut.

Attendants said that 150 persons in the long house which is lined on both sides with animal cages escaped uninjured only because the tiger attacked a lion housed in a nearby cage as soon as he gained freedom.

Crowd Waiting

younger sister, who is spending the weekend out of town with the Earl and Countess of Scarborough, also was told at once.

Standing in the cool November night the crowds saw a royal page dressed in blue walk stiffly from a palace doorway. He strode to the side of a solemn police constable who is always on duty at the gates. The page bent over close to the constable and told him the news in a low voice.

The policeman then quickly walked to the iron railings against which the crowd was tightly packed and declared exultantly:

"It's a boy" Then throwing his head back and shouting, he yelled: "A prince has been born!"

Like wildfire the word spread in all directions. Tears welled in many eyes. Cheers rippled through the air to shatter the Sunday night stillness.

The news that Elizabeth's child was a son told the normally stolid Londoners what they wanted to hear—that the royal heir was a child who might someday be their king.

Jews Say Plan

estine where Israeli troops also scored recent victories. The council also might consider Bunche's proposal asking the Jews and Arabs to work toward replacing the present Palestine truce with an armistice.)

Commenting on the Negev order, the Israeli spokesman said:

"In this unreasonable, unrealistic order Dr. Bunche seems to be assuming the prerogatives of God—to raise the dead. The Egyptians have been defeated and beaten out of all this territory.

"This was Jewish state territory. The Egyptians entered as invaders. Now seemingly they are to be brought back to the scene of their aggression—and their defeat—oddly enough under the flag of the United Nations."

The informant said that even if the Arabs were to be given Beersheba in violation of the United Nation's own partition plan, he could not understand why Bunche said the Egyptians were to control it.

"Abdullah (King of Trans-Jordan) may want to have something to say about that," he observed.

The Egyptians moved into Southern Palestine last spring and at one time advanced up the coast to within 20 miles of Tel Aviv, the Israeli capital.

They also moved inland in a broad wedge through Beersheba to Jerusalem, isolating the Jewish settlements in the Negev.

In their lightning campaign last month Israeli troops wiped out that wedge and forced the Egyptians to fall back along the coast to the area of Gaza.

Bane Is Held Without Bond In Wife's Death

KEYSER, W. Va. — James "Ike" Bane, 77-year-old farmer of Fountain Road, six miles from here, was ordered held without bond in the Mineral County Jail for action of the January term of court on a charge of murdering his wife, Mrs. Sarah V. Bane, 75.

Bane received a preliminary hearing Friday before Justice of Peace Maralyn Bazzle. He was represented by Attorneys H. R. Athey and Howard P. Shores. Prosecuting Attorney Vernon E. Rankin presented the state's case.

Mrs. Bane died in Potomac Valley Hospital on October 20, six days after being admitted following an alleged fatal assault on her by her accused husband. Sheriff James A. Dixon found her unconscious at the farm home after being called by neighbors. She never regained consciousness.

Dr. Harry Coffman told a coroner's jury yesterday that Mrs. Bane died from "a blow on the head." The wife had docketed a divorce suit in September against her husband.

Forrestal spoke with correspondents at fog-shrouded Templehof airfield before departing for Frankfurt and Paris. He said he has been discussing questions of Western Europe's military defense with statesmen on his tour. He said the talks were only "casual," nothing "specific."

The trip was made possible by contributions totaling more than $1,800 by civic groups and individuals who read of the girl's plight in the newspapers.

Plane Forced To Land After Crashing Into Bird

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—An Air National Guard B-26 from Ft. Bennett, N. Y., was forced to make an emergency landing at the Baltimore airport today after a heavy bird crashed into the plexiglass nose.

The bombadier, First Lt. J. E. Clark, who was in the nose at the time, received arm injuries.

Maj. Allen Clark, detachment commander of the Maryland Air National Guard, said Clark was taken to Camp Holabird Hospital for a checkup and released. The plane's crew has returned to New York in another aircraft, he said.

Clark said he thought the bird was a duck or a goose.

Safety Rules For Hunters Are Suggested

With hunting season for small game open, and deer season the first full week in December only a couple of weeks away, the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission has issued the following safety reminders:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the bolt open, into your automobile, camp or home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and bolt are clear of obstruction.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Thus far this season, Maryland has not had a single hunting fatality. Game wardens and other officials urge all hunters and sportsmen to keep the record clean this year.

Indications are that Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, North China commander, is deploying his troops for defense of the principal cities, such as Peiping, Tientsin and Tangshan, major coal center. In doing so, he apparently will make no great effort to defense points like Paoting.

The Shanghai newspaper Sun Pao reported government troops had "voluntarily evacuated" Chengteh, Jehol Province capital. Provincial officials fled to Miyuan, inside the Great Wall. Mobs looted Chengteh, said the newspaper, until the Reds occupied it three days ago.

Why another increase in telephone rates is necessary

Here are the facts:

1 Everybody wants good telephone service

The people of Maryland want and need the best possible telephone service—and enough of it—at the lowest possible cost. It is the responsibility of the telephone company to see that they get it.

2 But it costs more today to provide it

Telephone costs, like those of every other business, have gone up. Recent wage increases, together with the rising costs of materials and supplies, have brought telephone expenses to an all-time high. Construction costs, also, continue at record-high levels.

3 Rate increases have been kept low

Rising costs forced us to ask the Public Service Commission for increased rates in December, 1946—our first request in 21 years. But in the public's interest, we asked for only the bare minimum required at that time.

The rate increases granted are less than we asked for and much less than needed to meet today's increased costs of operation.

Telephone rates in Maryland have gone up, on the average, less than 20%. Isn't that pretty low compared to the increases in most of the things you buy?

4 More than $60,000,000 already spent—$60,000,000 more needed for better telephone service

We have spent over $60,000,000 since V-J Day to expand telephone facilities and improve telephone service in an effort to meet your requirements. And we must spend $60,000,000 more in the next few years to meet public demand for service. These huge sums are necessary to provide dial service, more individual lines for party-line customers, faster local and long distance service and better service in rural areas.

5 Where will the money come from?

Most of our income goes to meet our day-by-day operating costs. But there must be enough left to pay a fair and reasonable return to investors—the people whose money is used to build telephone facilities. Otherwise, these people will not continue to put their savings into the telephone business.

Our earnings under the rate increases granted are insufficient to attract the additional capital needed. And, without the investors' dollars, we cannot put up the buildings and add the equipment we need to meet your demands for telephone service.

6 Good service at fair rates is in the public interest

We don't like to have to ask for higher telephone rates. But there is no other course open to us. Our financial situation is such that there is no margin in our earnings to absorb today's high operating costs.

Telephone service must not become a bottleneck—it must help the growth and industrial development of the state. It must keep pace with the growing needs of Maryland—and of your community!

Our job is to furnish the people of Maryland with the amount and kind of telephone service they want and need. We are asking for only enough to do that job—and no more.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

There's a gent in this town named Avian Peppermill who writes a column for gourmets (a gourmet, Junior, is a pig in an Ascot tie), and since the pronouncements of Avian on the pap and pablum of the privileged are widely read and followed, there's hardly a swank restaurant in Manhattan where he doesn't have free entre, not to mention dessert.

Billy Rose

I dropped around to see Avian the other day. "Reviewed any good omelets lately?" I asked.

Peppermill smiled like Dracula when he sees a lily-white neck. "I see you haven't been following my column lately," he said.

"I don't dare,,, I said. "Just reading your prose makes me put on poundage. Did you discover a new restaurant?"

"Two restaurants," Avian said proudly. "The first is a little French place in the upper Sixties known as Anatole's. I happened to pass it recently, so I stopped in and introduced myself to the proprietor, and he, in turn, introduced me to cassoulet, an Algerian concoction made of two small chickens, port, garlic sausage, chicken livers and diced tongue, cooked with flagellot beans, tomatoes, butter and Algerian wine."

"Just like Escoffier's mother used to make," I said, drooling politely.

"A simple dish ,but not without interest," said the George Jean Nathan of the nosebags. "I returned to my office and, between sips of my favorite beverage—bicarbonate and essence of peppermint—I wrote my review, giving Anatole three and a half stars.

"The day after my column appeared, I received a letter informing me that Anatole was a Marseilles mountebank who couldn't peel a parsnip without cutting himself, and that if I really wanted to sample la vraie cuisine Francaise, I should hurry to a snail shack known as Louis' Bijou de Gironde—right across the street from Anatole's—and sample their paupiettes de veau Fontagnes — veal prepared with liver, white mushrooms, sweetbreads, puree of petit pois, and fine sherry. That evening I spent a fascinating two hours over this masterpiece and then hustled back to my typewriter to peck out its praises.

"A few hours after my paper hit the street, Anatole himself was in my office with the news that Louis was a Bordeaux bum who didn't know a scallion from a skillet. He protested that I had caught him on my first visit 'with his pans down,' and promised that if I would drop in that evening he would offer me a repast worthy of my palate—pate de langouste, escargots Antibes, cotelettes de volaille Vicomtesse, topped by mousse au chocolat and a drop of Vielle Cure.

'Well, from that day on, my column became a feuding ground for these two masters of the culinary art. As the battle for my praises became more intense, each proprietor instructed his doorman to be on the lookout for me, and no sooner would I emerge from Anatole's filled with, say, moules a la poulette a la mode de Foyot—mussels bathed in sherry and cream—than I would be buttonholed by the rival lookout and asked to taste the homard a la Barante—a lobster-cheese-capers-mushroom - Burgandy casserole.

"Well, Billy, it was the most exciting two weeks of my life, and few men, not excepting the illustrious Brillat-Savarin himself, have had so many gastronomic thrills in so short a time. The duel might still be going on if . . ."

Just then a girl in a crisp, white dress came in. "Visiting hours are over," she said, sticking a thermometer in Avian Peppermill's mouth.

BALTIMORE CHORUS WILL SING HERE

The Baltimore and Ohio Women's Music Club Chorus will come to Cumberland from Baltimore next Sunday for a concert appearance in Fort Hill High School auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

Glee Club, the 80 women will present a program ranging from classical to popular and interspersed with novelty numbers. Mrs. D. L. Miller, president of the Cumberland CTP, which is sponsoring next Sunday's concert, said that there will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be asked. Net proceeds will be turned over to the Cumberland Choral Society as a gesture of good will from the Baltimore women.

"Tell the truth." What an old-fashioned statement that is.

"Honesty is the best policy." You've probably heard that one so often it no longer makes much of an impression on you.

But the daily work of the welfare agency gives constant proof of the soundness of both statements. In seeking assistance from public or private agencies, many people hurt themselves simply because they fail to tell the truth.

Like a doctor, lawyer or confessor, the agency worker is pledged to keep your troubles confidential. The doctor can scarcely make a proper diagnosis if he is given misleading symptoms. The welfare worker can't solve a social problem with obscured, omitted, or misleading facts.

If everyone were perfect, there would be no need of family service agencies such as Associated Charities. Human mistakes must be met with human understanding.

If we find a starving dog in the streets, we feed him. We don't ask whether he is a blue ribbon winner.

But if we find an old man, living alone, starving and cold, we are going to give even quicker relief in the form of food, shelter and medical care. And then we must ask questions.

How did the old man ever get into such circumstances? Was anyone responsible? Why did the condition go on so long? And so on.

There is no desire to spy on the man. No one is interested in his personal affairs, as such. But the cause of his plight must be determined. Not only his welfare is at stake, but the welfare of the community. Such things must be eliminated if possible.

That's why the Community Chest exists. That's why the Salvation Army, YMCA, Traveler's Aid and all the other agencies keep working in the public interest.

They want to prevent juvenile delinquency, disrespect for home and community, and all the things that lead to human misery. They are interested in the cause of such conditions. And if they can remove the causes, expensive cures will not be necessary.

But unless the truth is told in the beginning, no one benefits.

At Associated Charities for instance, a woman pictures herself as being alone in the world. Investigation shows that she has a family. Not only does she slow up the progress of her case, but she brings unnecessary embarassment upon herself.

A young man insists that he can't find a job. He has looked everywhere, he says. Actually, it is found that he has just been released from prison. At various times he has served time in three states.

He was "ashamed" to tell the truth. But his shame hurt him, causing delay in the handling of his case. The truth would have helped all around, especially since there are often employers who are glad to give a man another chance.

In every case, it becomes clear that it is best to tell the truth. Plug hats went out with the gaslight era, and long skirts may come and go as the fashions change. The expression, "Honesty is the best policy" may be as old as the hills, but its value remains constant year after year.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

There's a gent in this town named Avian Peppermill who writes a column for gourmets (a gourmet, Junior, is a pig in an Ascot tie), and since the pronouncements of Avian on the pap and pablum of the privileged are widely read and followed, there's hardly a swank restaurant in Manhattan where he doesn't have free entre, not to mention dessert.

Billy Rose

I dropped around to see Avian the other day. "Reviewed any good omelets lately?" I asked.

Peppermill smiled like Dracula when he sees a lily-white neck. "I see you haven't been following my column lately," he said.

"I don't dare... I said. "Just reading your prose makes me put on poundage. Did you discover a new restaurant?"

"Two restaurants," Avian said proudly. "The first is a little French place in the upper Sixties known as Anatole's. I happened to pass it recently, so I stopped in and introduced myself to the proprietor, and he, in turn, introduced me to cassoulet, an Algerian concoction made of two small chickens, port, garlic sausage, chicken livers and diced tongue, cooked with flagellot beans, tomatoes, butter and Algerian wine."

"Just like Escoffier's mother used to make," I said, drooling politely.

"A simple dish but not without interest," said the George Jean Nathan of the nosebags. "I returned to my office and, between sips of my favorite beverage—bicarbonate and essence of peppermint—I wrote my review, giving Anatole three and a half stars.

"The day after my column appeared, I received a letter informing me that Anatole was a Marseilles mountebank who couldn't peel a parsnip without cutting himself, and that if I really wanted to sample la vraie cuisine Francaise, I should hurry to a snail shack known as Louis' Bijou de Gironde—right across the street from Anatole's—and sample their paupiettes de veau Fontagnes — veal prepared with liver, white mushrooms, sweetbreads, puree of petit pois, and fine sherry. That evening I spent a fascinating two hours over this masterpiece and then hustled back to my typewriter to peck out its praises.

"A few hours after my paper hit the street, Anatole himself was in my office with the news that Louis was a Bordeaux bum who didn't know a scallion from a skillet. He protested that I had caught him on my first visit 'with his pans down,' and promised that if I would drop in that evening he would offer me a repast worthy of my palate—pate de langouste, escargots Antibes, cotelettes de volaille Vicomtesse, topped by mousse au chocolat and a drop of Vielle Cure.

'Well, from that day on, my column became a feuding ground for these two masters of the culinary art. As the battle for my praises became more intense, each proprietor instructed his doorman to be on the lookout for me, and no sooner would I emerge from Anatole's filled with, say, moules a la poulette a la mode de Foyot—mussels bathed in sherry and cream—than I would be buttonholed by the rival lookout and asked to taste the homard a la Barante—a lobster-cheese-capers-mushroom - Burgandy casserole.

"Well, Billy, it was the most exciting two weeks of my life, and few men, not excepting the illustrious Brillat-Savarin himself, have had so many gastronomic thrills in so short a time. The duel might still be going on if . . ."

Just then a girl in a crisp, white dress came in. "Visiting hours are over," she said, sticking a thermometer in Avian Peppermill's mouth.

BALTIMORE CHORUS WILL SING HERE

The Baltimore and Ohio Women's Music Club Chorus will come to Cumberland from Baltimore next Sunday for a concert appearance in Fort Hill High School auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

Under the direction of James Allan Dasch, who is also conductor of the famous B. & O. Glee Club, the 80 women will present a program ranging from classical to popular and interspersed with novelty numbers. Beth Harrelson, coloratura soprano, and Theresa Nesbitt, lyric soprano, will be the soloists. Doris Nigh Zahn will be the piano accompanist.

Mrs. D. L. Miller, president of the Cumberland CTP, which is sponsoring next Sunday's concert, said that there will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be asked. Net proceeds will be turned over to the Cumberland Choral Society as a gesture of good will from the Baltimore women.

Assisting Mrs. Miller in arrangements for the concert are Mrs. Earl W. Conn, Mrs. James L. Fisher, Mrs. R. D. Nave and Mrs. Claude Cline.

THE FAMILY

"Tell the truth." What an old-fashioned statement that is.

"Honesty is the best policy." You've probably heard that one so often it no longer makes much of an impression on you.

But the daily work of the welfare agency gives constant proof of the soundness of both statements. In seeking assistance from public or private agencies, many people hurt themselves simply because they fail to tell the truth.

Like a doctor, lawyer or confessor, the agency worker is pledged to keep your troubles confidential. The doctor can scarcely make a proper diagnosis if he is given misleading symptoms. The welfare worker can't solve a social problem with obscured, omitted, or misleading facts.

If everyone were perfect, there would be no need of family service agencies such as Associated Charities. Human mistakes must be met with human understanding.

If we find a starving dog in the streets, we feed him. We don't ask whether he is a blue ribbon winner.

But if we find an old man, living alone, starving and cold, we are going to give even quicker relief in the form of food, shelter and medical care. And then we must ask questions.

How did the old man ever get into such circumstances? Was anyone responsible? Why did the condition go on so long? And so on.

There is no desire to spy on the man. No one is interested in his personal affairs, as such. But the cause of his plight must be determined. Not only his welfare is at stake, but the welfare of the community. Such things must be eliminated if possible.

That's why the Community Chest exists. That's why the Salvation Army, YMCA, Traveler's Aid and all the other agencies keep working in the public interest.

They want to prevent juvenile delinquency, disrespect for home and community, and all the things that lead to human misery. They are interested in the cause of such conditions. And if they can remove the causes, expensive cures will not be necessary.

But unless the truth is told in the beginning, no one benefits.

At Associated Charities for instance, a woman pictures herself as being alone in the world. Investigation shows that she has a family. Not only does she slow up the progress of her case, but she brings unnecessary embarassment upon herself.

A young man insists that he can't find a job. He has looked everywhere, he says. Actually, it is found that he has just been released from prison. At various times he has served time in three states.

He was "ashamed" to tell the truth. But his shame hurt him, causing delay in the handling of his case. The truth would have helped all around, especially since there are often employers who are glad to give a man another chance.

In every case, it becomes clear that it is best to tell the truth. Plug hats went out with the gaslight era, and long skirts may come and go as the fashions change. The expression, "Honesty is the best policy" may be as old as the hills, but its value remains constant year after year.

$10 Theft Reported

Police are investigating a report by George Froelich, 118 Decatur Street, that an unidentified girl selling name plates for front doors stole $10 from the top of a dresser in his living room late Friday afternoon.

Froelich told police his wife answered the door and invited the girl inside, leaving her in the hallway to call him.

DUKES TO OPEN SEASON WITH ST. FRANCIS COLLEGE

College Cagers To Appear Here On Next Sunday

"Skip" Hughes Coaches Pennsylvania Quintet

Cumberland's Dukes of the All-American Professional Basketball League, will open their 1948-49 season with St. Francis College of Loretto, Pa., Sunday, November 21 at 9 p. m., at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium, Fayette Street, Bob Whip, business manager, announced last night.

Whip said the Dukes had hoped to open the season with Duquesne University as in the past two seasons but the Pittsburgh team was unable to appear on Sunday and St. Francis, coached by "Skip" Hughes, former Pitt star, was substituted. Coach Hughes advised Whip that St. Francis has its entire first string squad back from last season.

League Opens Nov. 28

The St. Francis-Dukes game will precede by one week the opening contest of the All-American League between the locals and Pittsburgh on Sunday, November 28.

Coach Louis H. "Red" Klotz sent his squad through a three-hour drill yesterday at the State Armory and was pleased with the way in which the locals are rounding into shape. He was impressed by the showing of Bill Day, former Bucknell player; Jim Clevenger, the Keyser sharpshooter, and "Babe" Johnson, former Potomac State School star and likes the spirit and willingness shown by Jim Clingan, Don Lilya and Milford Dean, local high school aces of last season. Eighteen candidates participated in yesterday's drill.

SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium has been painted, the playing floor has been refinished and everything will be in readiness for the lidder here Sunday.

Three Drills Listed

Coach Klotz, who will also play with the locals, will get a pretty good idea how his squad shapes up after three drills this week—today, Tuesday and Friday at 8 p. m., on the Fayette Street court.

Two New Records Hung Up In City Bowling Circuit

McKay Spills 667 Pins, Levin's Topples 2,897

Two new records were hung up in the Men's City Bowling League yesterday when Eddie McKay of Levin's posted a three-game total of 667 and the American division pace-setters toppled 2,897 pins for the set as they swept three games from Tommy's on the Club Recreation alleys.

McKay's 667 bettered by one pin the previous high set by John Bendle a teammate, several weeks ago. The Levin team's 2,897 topped by 69 pples their previous high of 2,828.

Conn Posts 661

In addition to McKay's 667, Eddie Conn rolled 621, "Bud" McClellan 574 and Bender 524. McKay, Bender and Conn spilled 243, 236 and 222 pins in single games. Ernie Wolford added Tommy's with a 558 set while Jack Fayman posted 238 in a single game.

Lead Is Reduced

Foxy reduced Kelso's lead in the National Division to one full game by copping two out of three games from the latter. Everett Clem topped the victors with 518 while W. Fox was high for Kelso's with 450.

Bob Willison, Oscar Leasure and Ash Haines turned in scores of 553, 542 and 520 as the Savoy grabbed three in a row from the Club. Willison's 230 was high for one game. Ash Weese's 512 was high for the club.

82,769 See Browns Beat Forty-Niners

Snap San Francisco's Winning Streak, 14-7

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14 (AP)—Cleveland's Browns, two-time champions of the All-America Football Conference, took undisputed possession of the league's lead today as they handed San Francisco its first loss in 11 starts, 14 to 7.

It was the tenth win of the year for the unbeaten Browns, and the rugged game was played before 82,769 fans, largest crowd ever to see a professional league contest.

The clash of the two undefeated goliaths of the western division of the conference turned out just as expected—a tussle of titans— and the Browns needed a break to take the verdict.

Fumble Aids Browns

They got that break, and their first touchdown, in the first 45 seconds as Halfback Forrest Hall fumbled the opening kickoff and Capt. Lou Saban of the Browns recovered on the 49ers 14.

Automatic Otto Graham, former Northwestern All-American, missed on a pass, but on the second play scampered around end for the score after faking another aerial.

The westerners came back with an 82-yard march for their score in the same session, Fullback Joe Perry hitting center for a yard to climax the drive which consumed 18 plays featured by John Strzykalski's 24-yard jaunt around right end, and a 14-yard run by Frankie Albert.

After that the Browns staved off a flock of San Francisco threats, three intercepted passes and two more recovered fumbles turning the trick.

Browns Drive 84 Yards

The Browns put the game on ice as they went 84 yards in 11 plays after the second half kickoff, with Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones skirting end for the counter. Lou Groza, the Browns' golden - toed placekicker who missed two attempted three-pointers from around midfield, made good on both extra point tries.

In the second scoring series Graham uncorked three completed passes in four attempts, hitting Cowan for 13 and 28 yards, and Ara Parseghian for 15. Graham connected on 12 of 26 passes for 147 yards, while left - handed Albert tried 15, completing six for 32 yards.

Just after their second touchdown the Browns rolled back to the 49er 18-yard line, but Verl Lillywhite intercepted a pass in the end zone to end the splurge.

The score by periods:

CLEVELAND BROWNS	7	0	7	0	—14
SAN FRANCISCO 49ERS	7	0	0	0	— 7

YANKEES WIN, 21-7

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (INS)—The New York Yankees beat Brooklyn 21 to 7 today and went into a triple tie with Buffalo and Baltimore for first place in the Eastern Division of the All-America Football Conference.

This came about when the Los Angeles Dons defeated Buffalo, and Baltimore trounced the Chicago Rockets.

Brooklyn's attack threatened the New York goal repeatedly in the first period, only to fizzle out at the last moment. Then New York's Bob Kennedy intercepted a Brooklyn pass and ran to the Dodgers' 28-yard line. Buddy Young took the ball over the goal line in two plays.

Pistol Pete Layden scored New York's second touchdown on a 16-yard run which climaxed a 78-yard drive.

New York's Harvey Johnson made all three conversions, which now total 68 straight and leave him only four behind the all-time pro record of 72 held by Jack Manders.

Score by periods:

YANKEES	7	7	0	7	—21
DODGERS	0	0	0	7	— 7

DONS UPSET BILLS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 14 (INS)—The Los Angeles Dons of the All-America Football Conference today upset the Buffalo Bills by a 27 to 20 score before a crowd of 23,725.

It was the expert place kicking of Ben Agajanian, toe artist for the West Coast club, that spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the Los Angeles eleven.

Agajanian place-kicked two field goals in the opening half, one for 31 yards and the second for 51, to keep the tally at six-to-six at half time.

The Bills took the lead in the first quarter on a 35-yard heave by Quarterback George Ratterman to end Alton Baldwin in the end zone. Armstrong missed the extra counter.

In the final half Glenn Dobbs scored two touchdowns on runs and again Agajanian made good for the single points. For Buffalo, Baldwin and Mutryn made touchdowns with Kulbitski kicking the extra points.

With only one minute to go, Ratterman threw a pass from his own 11-yard line and it was intercepted by Heap of the Dons. The winning tally was scored after Aguirre went over from the 6-yard marker.

Score by periods:

LOS ANGELES	0	6	14	7	—27
BUFFALO	6	0	7	7	—20

COLTS DOWN ROCKETS

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts staged a 28-point second half rally to whip the Chicago Rockets 38-24 today and stay in contention for Eastern Division honors in the All-America Football Conference.

The 21,899 fans in Babe Ruth Stadium had a worried first half in which the Colts had to come from behind for a 10-10 standoff.

But they went to town after the intermission on the hard running of Bus Mertes and passing of Y. A. Tittle to trouce the team which beat them earlier this season. That victory was the only one Chicago has registered. Score by periods:

BALTIMORE COLTS	0	10	14	14	—38
CHICAGO ROCKETS	3	7	8	14	—24

Santa Clara Tops St. Mary's Gaels

30,000 See Broncos Win On Coast, 10-7

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14 (INS)—Santa Clara's Broncos beat their old gridiron rivals from St. Mary's College 10 to 7 today before a crowd of 30,000 in Kezar Stadium at San Francisco.

The game was the 29th meeting between the two schools.

With 15 seconds to play in the first half, Moses Chavez booted a field goal from the St. Mary's 17-yard line to give the Broncos a 3 to 0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, the Broncos scored a touchdown on a blocked punt. The ball bounded crazily, first going back into the Gael end zone and then bouncing out to the five yard line where Santa Clara Halfback Hall Haynes scooped it up and ran it over for the touchdown. Chavez booted the extra point.

St. Mary's then took the Santa Clara kickoff and went 75 yards in nine plays for their touchdown. The score was made on a 26-yard pass, Dick Jarvis to Glen Bell. Lou Bradvica kicked the extra point.

Redskins Subdue Detroit, 46 To 21

Sammy Baugh's Passes Feature Late Rally

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — The Washington Redskins roared from behind to score four fourth-period touchdowns today — three of them on passes from Sammy Baugh — to roll over the Detroit Lions, 46 to 21, in a National League football game.

The Lions have won only one game all season. They were supposed to be easy for the Redskins, in second place in the Eastern Division of the league.

But they jumped to a 14-3 lead at halftime, were ahead again 21-19, shortly after the fourth period started.

And then the roof caved in on the hard fighting Lions—the roof cleverly disguised as Sammy Baugh.

The Old Master had been having a bad day, and maybe Detroit grew careless. At any rate, Baugh shot the ball to Hal Crisler, who ran all the way to the Detroit 4 yard line, a 55-yard play. Ed Quirk, who had scored an earlier Redskin touchdown, crashed over to put the Redskins in front to stay.

WASHINGTON	3	0	16	27	—46
DETROIT	7	7	0	7	—21

National Guard Will Sponsor Grid Movies

The National Guard Detachment will sponsor a football program at the State Armory on Tuesday, November 23 at 8 p. m.

A film depicting the Washington Redskins in action against their 1947 opponents will be shown through the cooperation and efforts of Herman Ball, of the Redskins' staff. The film is in sound and color with narration by Harry Wismer. Included in the film will be seen Tommy Mont, Jim Gaffney and Johnny Lookabaugh.

Eagles Maintain Lead, Score 45-0 Win Over Boston

Thompson's Passing Highlights Contest

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (INS)—The Philadelphia Eagles swamped the Boston Yanks, 45-0, today and maintained their lead in the National Pro League's eastern division.

The slingshot arm of Tommy Thompson gave the Eagles four touchdowns. One of the passes was a 70-yard heave to Halfback Russ Craft.

It was the Eagles' sixth straight triumph. The Quakers have one loss and a tie to mar their 1948 record.

Rookie quarterback Bill Mackrides also flung a touchdown pass for the Eagles and the final Philadelphia tally was scored by halfback Jim Parmer on a five-yard plunge.

Big Jim Patton registered a 37-yard field goal and six conversions to complete the Eagles' scoring.

The conversions gave Patton 34 consecutive points after-touchdown for the season.

Boston was never in the ball game and the Eagles might have scored at will if they had kept their first-string in the line up.

A disappointing crowd of 23,500 watched the dull game.

BEARS COP CLOSE ONE

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (INS) — An unsuccessful conversion attempt by Green Bay's Ed Cody with three minutes to play enabled the Chicago Bears to squeeze by the Packers, 7 to 6, today before 48,113 National Football League fans in Chicago.

The Packers climaxed an 80-yard drive with a 14-yard pass from Jack Jacobs to Nolan Luhn for their touchdown, but Cody's try for the extra point was low and to the right of the crossbars.

The Bears scored their touchdown in the third period, after a scoreless first half, on a 34-yard pass from Bobby Layne to George McAfee. Allen Lawler placekicked what proved to be the winning point.

STEELERS LOSE, 24-7

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Chicago Cardinals struck quickly for two touchdowns before a 33,364 crowd was seated today and went on from there to a 24-7 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers. Missed scoring opportunities deprived the Steelers of a chance to make it closer.

The partisan crowd jeered the arbiters constantly after an apparent touchdown plunge by Steeler Jerry Shipkey from two yards out was called back and the ball ruled dead on the two.

It was the Cardinals' fifth straight National Football League victory and their seventh in eight starts.

The Cardinals rolled up a 14-0 lead in the first two minutes and 13 seconds. Ray Mallouf pitched a long pass to End Malcolm Kutner for 44 yards and a touchdown. Then Charley Trippi took a Pittsburgh punt, swept wide to the sidelines and ran 67 yards unmolested for another score.

RAMS TAKE WILD ONE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams came from behind with three touchdowns in the final period to whip the New York Giants, 52-37, in a wild National Football League game today before 22,766 fans at the Polo Grounds.

For three quarters the game was a thriller, filled with long runs, pass interceptions and frequent fumbles.

When Rookie Joe Scott rambled 99 yards on a kickoff return for his third touchdown and guard Bob Dobelstein scored on a 20 yard runback of a pass interception, the Giants went to the front, 37-31.

The customers who had seen the two teams pack four touchdowns into three minutes and 24 seconds in the third period were ready to congratulate the Giants on their third victory in eight starts.

But the Rams had other ideas. Dick Hoerner tied the score early in the fourth quarter with a four-yard smash at the end of a 40-yard march. Fred Gehrke's 48-yard punt return laid the stage.

Then Bob Waterfield, whose 36-yard field goal in the third quarter looked like it might be the margin of victory, booted the fifth of his seven conversions to put the Rams ahead to stay. Score by periods:

St. Vincent's Defeats Mt. St. Mary's, 31-7

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 14 (AP)—Mike Puskar scored four touchdowns and placekicked an extra point to lead his St. Vincent's football mates to a 31-7 conquest of Mount St. Mary's here today.

The invading eleven from Latrobe, Pa., had things pretty much their own way throughout the contest, chalking up to touchdowns in the first period and one each in the next three quarters.

Playing most of the game without the services of its own brilliant halfback, Walt Bellardinelli, the Mt. St. Mary's unit failed to muster a drive until the third frame.

With Bellardinelli nursing an injured hip muscle on the sidelines, Quarterback Marty Green guided the Mounts 65 yards, finally going over from the two when he faded to pass and could find no receivers.

JOE LOUIS

Dear Champ—

Well, Joe, I hope it's true that you and me are finally going to box on next Wednesday, Nov. 17.

I'm only asking you for a few favors and, knowing you to be a real sport, I'm sure you'll grant me these favors.

(1) That the gloves you bring with you are not pillows.

(2) That you don't run while we fight like that man Walcott did with you and me.

(3) That if I happen to kayo you that you'll be the sport we know you to be and turn over to me your championship belt. Incidentally, bring it with you. See you November 17th, I hope.

Your pal,

Jimmy Bivins

AHS Grid Team Sets City Scoring Record

Total Of 333 Points Three Above Old Mark

When Allegany High School's unbeaten and untied football team defeated Johnstown Catholic High School by the score of 33-13 on Friday night and increased its point total for nine games to 333 it established an all-time high for points scored in a single season by a Cumberland scholastic eleven.

The former record was held by the 1947 Fort Hill High School eleven which rolled up 330 points in winning nine games and losing one. Allegany's undefeated team of 1942 scored 317 points in racking up nine straight victories. The Campers' unbeaten team of 1941 scored 186 points.

Fort Hill's current unbeaten and untied team has amassed a total of 308 points in nine games.

Both AHS and Fort Hill will be given an opportunity to up their point totals when they clash in the season's finale on Thanksgiving Day.

Average Is 37 Points

In the nine games played to date the Campers have never scored before below 26 points per game and their top score was the 54-0 triumph over Hagerstown. Their average is 37 points a game.

Allegany's scoring record was the fourth hung up this season. Earl Bruce, AHS fullback, has established new records for total touchdowns and total points and Glen Burke of Fort Hill bettered the old mark for points scored after touchdowns.

If Fort Hill wins the Turkey Day game it will have equalled the 19-game winning streak credited to Allegany teams in the early 1940s. No Cumberland scholastic eleven has ever won 10 consecutive games in a single season and the team winning the November 25 contest will be the first to achieve such a feat.

Clash For Third Time

LaSalle High School will play its final home game of the season on Friday night when it plays host to Coach Richard McElwee's Romney High School Pioneers at the stadium. It will be the third meeting of these schools on the gridiron and the series is now even-Stephen. LaSalle won in 1946 by the score of 26-6 and Romney edged the Explorers in last year's game 14-13. The Hampshire Countians come here with a record of seven wins and one defeat.

In a contest at Doylestown, Pa., Saturday, the National Agricultural College eleven battled Potomac State School of Keyser to a 7-7 tie. Jack Booth scored State's touchdown and Georgia Lucia made the extra point. A 21-yard pass, Serridge to Kirkhoff produced the home team's touchdown and Sheier converted the try for point.

New Baseball Loop May Be Organized

HARRISONBURG, Va., Nov. 14 (AP) — Initial step looking to the organization of a Class D baseball league composed of six or eight Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania cities may be taken at a meeting of representatives from the various cities at Winchester Monday night.

Ray Ryan, of Columbus, Ohio, first president of the old Virginia League, has visited the cities in the area as field representative of the National Association. He has found much interest in the proposed league at Harrisonburg, Waynesboro, Charlottesville, Woodstock, in Virginia; Cumberland and Frederick in Maryland; Martinsburg, Cambridgeburg and Waynesboro in West Virginia.

Cumberland will be represented at the meeting by Eugene T. Gunning and J. Suter Kegg of the Cumberland Evening Times.

Game Is Postponed

The football game scheduled for today at Campobello between St. Mary's and Allegany of the K. of C. Youth Program League has been postponed indefinitely.

DUKES TO OPEN SEASON WITH ST. FRANCIS COLLEGE

College Cagers To Appear Here On Next Sunday

"Skip" Hughes Coaches Pennsylvania Quintet

Cumberland's Dukes of the All-American Professional Basketball League, will open their 1948-49 season with St. Francis College of Loretto, Pa., Sunday, November 21 at 9 p. m., at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium, Fayette Street, Bob Whip, business manager, announced last night.

Whip said the Dukes had hoped to open the season with Duquesne University as in the past two seasons but the Pittsburgh team was unable to appear on Sunday and St. Francis, coached by "Skip" Hughes, former Pitt star, was substituted. Coach Hughes advised Whip that St. Francis has its entire first string squad back from last season.

League Opens Nov. 28

The St. Francis-Dukes game will precede by one week the opening contest of the All-American League between the locals and Pittsburgh on Sunday, November 28.

Coach Louis H. "Red" Klotz sent his squad through a three-hour drill yesterday at the State Armory and was pleased with the way in which the locals are rounding into shape. He was impressed by the showing of Bill Day, former Bucknell player; Jim Clevenger, the Keyser sharpshooter, and "Babe" Johnson, former Potomac State School star and likes the spirit and willingness shown by Jim Clingan, Don Lilya and Milford Dean, local high school stars of last season. Eighteen candidates participated in yesterday's drill.

SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium has been painted, the playing floor has been refinished and everything will be in readiness for the lid-lifter here Sunday.

Three Drills Listed

Coach Klotz, who will also play with the locals, will get a pretty good idea how his squad shapes up after three drills this week—today, Tuesday and Friday at 8 p. m., on the Fayette Street court.

82,769 See Browns Beat Forty-Niners

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14 (AP)—Cleveland's Browns, two-time champions of the All-America Football Conference, took undisputed possession of the league's lead today as they handed San Francisco its first loss in 11 starts, 14 to 7.

It was the tenth win of the year for the unbeaten Browns, and the rugged game was played before 82,769 fans, largest crowd ever to see a professional league contest.

The clash of the two undefeated goliaths of the western division of the conference turned out just as expected—a tussle of titans— and the Browns needed a break to take the verdict.

Fumble Aids Browns

They got that break, and their first touchdown, in the first 45 seconds as Halfback Forrest Hall fumbled the opening kickoff and Capt. Lou Saban of the Browns recovered on the 49ers 14.

Automatic Otto Graham, former Northwestern All-American, missed on a pass, but on the second play scampered around end for the score after faking another aerial.

The westerners came back with an 82-yard march for their score in the same session, Fullback Joe Perry hitting center for a yard to climax the drive which consumed 18 plays featured by John Strzykalski's 24-yard jaunt around right end, and a 14-yard run by Frankie Albert.

Browns Drive 84 Yards

The Browns put the game on ice as they went 84 yards in 11 plays after the second half kickoff, with Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones skirting end for the counter. Lou Groza, the Browns' golden - toed placekicker who missed two attempted three-pointers from around midfield, made good on both extra point tries.

In the second scoring series Graham uncorked three completed passes in four attempts, hitting Cowan for 13 and 28 yards, and Ara Parseghian for 15. Graham connected on 12 of 26 passes for 147 yards, while left - handed Albert tried 15, completing six for 32 yards.

Just after their second touchdown the Browns rolled back to the 49er 18-yard line, but Verl Lillywhite intercepted a pass in the end zone to end the splurge.

YANKEES WIN, 21-7

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (INS)—The New York Yankees beat Brooklyn 21 to 7 today and went into a triple tie with Buffalo and Baltimore for first place in the Eastern Division of the All-America Football Conference.

This came about when the Los Angeles Dons defeated Buffalo, and Baltimore trounced the Chicago Rockets.

Brooklyn's attack threatened the New York goal repeatedly in the first period, only to fizzle out at the last moment. Then New York's Bob Kennedy intercepted a Brooklyn pass and ran to the Dodgers' 28-yard line. Buddy Young took the ball over the goal line in two plays.

New York's Harvey Johnson made all three conversions, which now total 68 straight and leave him only four behind the all-time pro record of 72 held by Jack Manders.

DONS UPSET BILLS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 14 (INS)—The Los Angeles Dons of the All-America Football Conference today upset the Buffalo Bills by a 27 to 20 score before a crowd of 23,725.

It was the expert place kicking of Ben Agajanian, toe artist for the West Coast club, that spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the Los Angeles eleven.

Agajanian place-kicked two field goals in the opening half, one for 31 yards and the second for 51, to keep the tally at six-to-six at half time.

The Bills took the lead in the first quarter on a 35-yard heave by Quarterback George Ratterman to end Alton Baldwin in the end zone. Armstrong missed the extra counter.

In the final half Glenn Dobbs scored two touchdowns on runs and again Agajanian made good for the single points. For Buffalo, Baldwin and Mutryn made touchdowns with Kulbitski kicking the extra points.

With only one minute to go, Ratterman threw a pass from his own 11-yard line and it was intercepted by Heap of the Dons. The winning tally was scored after Aguirre went over from the 6-yard marker.

COLTS DOWN ROCKETS

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts staged a 28-point second half rally to whip the Chicago Rockets 38-24 today and stay in contention for Eastern Division honors in the All-America Football Conference.

The 21,899 fans in Babe Ruth Stadium had a worried first half in which the Colts had to come from behind for a 10-10 standoff.

But they went to town after the intermission on the hard running of Bus Mertes and passing of Y. A. Tittle to trouce the team which beat them earlier this season. That victory was the only one Chicago has registered. Score by periods:

Santa Clara Tops St. Mary's Gaels

30,000 See Broncos Win On Coast, 10-7

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14 (INS)—Santa Clara's Broncos beat their old gridiron rivals from St. Mary's College 10 to 7 today before a crowd of 30,000 in Kezar Stadium at San Francisco.

The game was the 29th meeting between the two schools.

With 15 seconds to play in the first half, Moses Chavez booted a field goal from the St. Mary's 17-yard line to give the Broncos a 3 to 0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, the Broncos scored a touchdown on a blocked punt. The ball bounded crazily, first going back into the Gael end zone and then bouncing out to the five yard line where Santa Clara Halfback Hall Haynes scooped it up and ran it over for the touchdown. Chavez booted the extra point.

St. Mary's then took the Santa Clara kickoff and went 75 yards in nine plays for their touchdown. The score was made on a 26-yard pass, Dick Jarvis to Glen Bell. Lou Bradvica kicked the extra point.

Redskins Subdue Detroit, 46 To 21

Sammy Baugh's Passes Feature Late Rally

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — The Washington Redskins roared from behind to score four fourth-period touchdowns today—three of them on passes from Sammy Baugh—to roll over the Detroit Lions, 46 to 21, in a National League football game.

The Lions have won only one game all season. They were supposed to be easy for the Redskins, in second place in the Eastern Division of the league.

But they jumped to a 14-3 lead at halftime, were ahead again 21-19, shortly after the fourth period started.

And then the roof caved in on the hard fighting Lions—the roof cleverly disguised as Sammy Baugh.

The Old Master had been having a bad day, and maybe Detroit grew careless. At any rate, Baugh shot the ball to Hal Crisler, who ran all the way to the Detroit 4 yard line, a 55-yard play. Ed Quirk, who had scored an earlier Redskin touchdown, crashed over to put the Redskins in front to stay.

Eagles Maintain Lead, Score 45-0 Win Over Boston

Thompson's Passing Highlights Contest

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (INS)—The Philadelphia Eagles swamped the Boston Yanks, 45-0, today and maintained their lead in the National Pro League's eastern division.

The slingshot arm of Tommy Thompson gave the Eagles four touchdowns. One of the passes was a 70-yard heave to Halfback Russ Craft.

It was the Eagles' sixth straight triumph. The Quakers have one loss and a tie to mar their 1948 record.

Rookie quarterback Bill Mackrides also flung a touchdown pass for the Eagles and the final Philadelphia tally was scored by halfback Jim Parmer on a five-yard plunge.

Big Jim Patton registered a 37-yard field goal and six conversions to complete the Eagles' scoring.

Boston was never in the ball game and the Eagles might have scored at will if they had kept their first-string in the line up.

A disappointing crowd of 23,500 watched the dull game.

BEARS COP CLOSE ONE

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (INS) — An unsuccessful conversion attempt by Green Bay's Ed Cody with three minutes to play enabled the Chicago Bears to squeeze by the Packers, 7 to 6, today before 48,113 National Football League fans in Chicago.

The Packers climaxed an 80-yard drive with a 14-yard pass from Jack Jacobs to Nolan Luhn for their touchdown, but Cody's try for the extra point was low and to the right of the crossbars.

The Bears scored their touchdown in the third period, after a scoreless first half, on a 34-yard pass from Bobby Layne to George McAfee. Allen Lawler placekicked what proved to be the winning point.

STEELERS LOSE, 24-7

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Chicago Cardinals struck quickly for two touchdowns before a 33,264 crowd was seated today and went on from there to a 24-7 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers. Missed scoring opportunities deprived the Steelers of a chance to make it closer.

The partisan crowd jeered the arbiters constantly after an apparent touchdown plunge by Steeler Jerry Shipkey from two yards out was called back and the ball ruled dead on the two.

It was the Cardinals' fifth straight National Football League victory and their seventh in eight starts.

The Cardinals rolled up a 14-0 lead in the first two minutes and 13 seconds. Ray Mallouf pitched a long pass to End Malcolm Kutner for 44 yards and a touchdown. Then Charley Trippi took a Pittsburgh punt, swept wide to the sidelines and ran 67 yards unmolested for another score.

RAMS TAKE WILD ONE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams came from behind with three touchdowns in the final period to whip the New York Giants, 52-37, in a wild National Football League game today before 22,766 fans at the Polo Grounds.

For three quarters the game was a thriller, filled with long runs, pass interceptions and frequent fumbles.

When Rookie Joe Scott rambled 99 yards on a kickoff return for his third touchdown and guard Bob Dobelstein scored on a 20 yard runback of a pass interception, the Giants went to the front, 37-31.

The customers who had seen the two teams pack four touchdowns into three minutes and 24 seconds in the third period were ready to congratulate the Giants on their third victory in eight starts.

But the Rams had other ideas. Dick Hoerner tied the score early in the fourth quarter with a four-yard smash at the end of a 40-yard march. Fred Gehrke's 48-yard punt return laid the stage.

Then Bob Waterfield, whose 36-yard field goal in the third quarter looked like it might be the margin of victory, booted the fifth of his seven conversions to put the Rams ahead to stay. Score by periods:

St. Vincent's Defeats Mt. St. Mary's, 31-7

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 14 (AP)—Mike Puskar scored four touchdowns and placekicked an extra point to lead his St. Vincent's football mates to a 31-7 conquest of Mount St. Mary's here today.

The invading eleven from Latrobe, Pa., had things pretty much their own way throughout the contest, chalking up to touchdowns in the first period and one each in the next three quarters.

Playing most of the game without the services of its own brilliant halfback, Walt Bellardinelli, the Mt. St. Mary's unit failed to muster a drive until the third frame.

With Bellardinelli nursing an injured hip muscle on the sidelines, Quarterback Marty Green guided the Mounts 65 yards, finally going over from the two when he faded to pass and could find no receivers.

AHS Grid Team Sets City Scoring Record

Total Of 333 Points Three Above Old Mark

When Allegany High School's unbeaten and untied football team defeated Johnstown Catholic High School by the score of 33-13 on Friday night and increased its point total for nine games to 333 it established an all-time high for points scored in a single season by a Cumberland scholastic eleven.

The former record was held by the 1947 Fort Hill High School eleven which rolled up 330 points in winning nine games and losing one. Allegany's undefeated team of 1942 scored 317 points in racking up nine straight victories. The Campers' unbeaten team of 1941 scored 186 points.

Fort Hill's current unbeaten and untied team has amassed a total of 308 points in nine games.

Both AHS and Fort Hill will be given an opportunity to up their point totals when they clash in the season's finale on Thanksgiving Day.

Average Is 37 Points

In the nine games played to date the Campers have never scored before below 26 points per game and their top score was the 54-0 triumph over Hagerstown. Their average is 37 points a game.

Allegany's scoring record was the fourth hung up this season. Earl Bruce, AHS fullback, has established new records for total touchdowns and total points and Glen Burke of Fort Hill bettered the old mark for points scored after touchdowns.

If Fort Hill wins the Turkey Day game it will have equalled the 19-game winning streak credited to Allegany teams in the early 1940s. No Cumberland scholastic eleven has ever won 10 consecutive games in a single season and the team winning the November 25 contest will be the first to achieve such a feat.

Clash For Third Time

LaSalle High School will play its final home game of the season on Friday night when it plays host to Coach Richard McElwee's Romney High School Pioneers at the stadium. It will be the third meeting of these schools on the gridiron and the series is now even-Stephen. LaSalle won in 1946 by the score of 26-6 and Romney edged the Explorers in last year's game 14-13. The Hampshire Countians come here with a record of seven wins and one defeat.

In a contest at Doylestown, Pa., Saturday, the National Agricultural College eleven battled Potomac State School of Keyser to a 7-7 tie. Jack Booth scored State's touchdown and Georgia Lucia made the extra point. A 21-yard pass, Serridge to Kirkhoff produced the home team's touchdown and Sheier converted the try for point.

New Baseball Loop May Be Organized

HARRISONBURG, Va., Nov. 14 (AP) — Initial step looking to the organization of a Class D baseball league composed of six or eight Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania cities may be taken at a meeting of representatives from the various cities at Winchester Monday night.

Ray Ryan, of Columbus, Ohio, first president of the old Virginia League, has visited the cities in the area as field representative of the National Association. He has found much interest in the proposed league at Harrisonburg, Waynesboro, Charlottesville, Woodstock, in Virginia; Cumberland and Frederick in Maryland; Martinsburg, Cambridgeburg and Waynesboro in West Virginia.

Cumberland will be represented at the meeting by Eugene T. Gunning and J. Suter Kegg of the Cumberland Evening Times.

Game Is Postponed

The football game scheduled for today at Campobello between St. Mary's and Allegany of the K. of C. Youth Program League has been postponed indefinitely.

Detroit Titans Score Over Billikens, 24-14

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14—(INS)—Detroit scored three touchdowns in the second half today to break a 7-7 tie and defeat the St. Louis University Billikens 24 to 14 before 6,387 football fans in St. Louis.

St. Louis scored first on a pass from Bob Astroth to Lee Alberta, but Detroit tied it up on a 12-yard run by Alex Kaysserian.

Won Many Titles

According to John D. Joiner of Cincinnati, who is handling Smith, the Ohio 135-pound star won the city and state AAU titles, the Cincinnati Golden Gloves championship and the national AAU featherweight crown.

WALLACE SMITH

Since the start of this year Smith copped the Cincinnati Golden Gloves title, won the Golden Gloves event at Chicago, scored a K.O. in the Madison Square Garden's East-West matches and bagged the Ohio AAU championship in Toledo. In June at Toledo he won the Olympic trial and qualified for the Olympic team in July by winning at Boston. At London he won two decision bouts and one by K.O. before losing out in the Olympics. RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Who's Life Is This?

"This Is Your Life" (N.B.C. 8 p. m. E.S.T. Tuesdays), the newest enterprise of that unhushed master of ceremonies Ralph Edwards, is—to quote Mr. Edwards — "as much a new frontier for radio as 'Truth or Consequences.'" I'm willing to concede that. The frontiers of radio, like those of Germany in 1945, are changing, though not necessarily expanding in all directions.

John Crosby

The highest compliment I can pay "This Is Your Life" is that it's an even greater invasion of privacy than "Candid Microphone," something I didn't believe was possible. "The so-called little people of life"—a phrase I'm only too happy to credit to Mr. Edwards—are brought unwittingly to the microphone. According to the press releases, the little people have no idea what is in store. What is in store is a review of their lives with the original cast, the sort of thing that usually happens to people only when they're drowning.

First person to go under was Paul Jackson, a paraplegic war veteran from a California hospital and the owner of a gun and tool shop.

"Any idea what's going to happen to you?" shouted Mr. Edwards, a man who has never fully trusted the power of a transmitter.

"No, I don't," said Mr. Jackson in the scared monotone of the amateur thrust unexpectedly in front of a microphone and a studio audience.

"This is your life," screamed Edwards. It was a sentence we were to hear a good deal of for the next half hour.

Jackson's life was exposed like a raw nerve more or less in reverse, starting in 1946 with with his marriage and ending in 1931 when he was six years old. After setting each scene, assisted by mood music, Edwards produced the original characters in the drama like Howard Thurston pulling eggs out of the air. During the wedding enactment, for example, out on the stage paraded the best man (Jackson's brother), the minister (Jackson's father), all the relatives and finally, to the strains of Mendelssohn, the bride. Chronology rather than taste, I suspect, persuaded Edwards to keep the baby in the wings until later.

Jackson's war record, marked by splendor and tragedy, was then unfolded with the assistance of sound effects which I found suprisingly unsatisfactory, this being one department where Edwards usually excels. Ping went the sound effects man to indicate Jackson's first wound in the invasion of Normandy. Another ping and Jackson was hit again. The third ping—a very inadequate ping, I must say—recreated the shot that crippled Jackson for life.

"You must have been thinking a lot of thoughts," said Edwards. describing how the soldier lay wounded in the snow all night.

"Yeah, sure was," said Jackson. During the whole program Jackson didn't say much beyond "I see," "Yeah sure" or "That's right."

"This is the part we call the Philip Morris future," Edwards explained. And on came the gifts. Three thousand dollars' worth of equipment for his gun and tool shop and—an anticlimax—a year's subscription to "Popular Mechanics."

"The actual people who shaped his destiny," said Edwards summing it all up, "plus the Philip Morris future." People may shape your destiny but it takes big business, or more accurately, Ralph Edwards, to shape a future.

Times have certainly changed. When I was younger, the gun molls used to shoot down their men, get acquitted and go into vaudeville But the molls have lost their allure (Besides, they don't get acquitted so easily.) In this new sort of vaudeville, a veteran, particularly a crippled one, will draw a bigger house with the same people who used to go look at the molls and for the same reasons.

The Ralph Edwardses are the Bourbons of 1948, scattering largesse among the little people; the patronage of a Ralph Edwards is certainly as valuable, possibly a little more so, than that of Louis XIV. You have to give up a certain amount of dignity and privacy — as did the court clowns and royal mistresses at Versailles — but the material rewards are more than enough to make up for it.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Who's Life Is This?

"This Is Your Life" (N.B.C. 8 p. m. E.S.T. Tuesdays), the newest enterprise of that unhushed master of ceremonies Ralph Edwards, is—to quote Mr. Edwards — "as much a new frontier for radio as 'Truth or Consequences.'" I'm willing to concede that. The frontiers of radio, like those of Germany in 1945, are changing, though not necessarily expanding in all directions.

John Crosby

The highest compliment I can pay "This Is Your Life" is that it's an even greater invasion of privacy than "Candid Microphone," something I didn't believe was possible. "The so-called little people of life"—a phrase I'm only too happy to credit to Mr. Edwards—are brought unwittingly to the microphone. According to the press releases, the little people have no idea what is in store. What is in store is a review of their lives with the original cast, the sort of thing that usually happens to people only when they're drowning.

First person to go under was Paul Jackson, a paraplegic war veteran from a California hospital and the owner of a gun and tool shop.

"Any idea what's going to happen to you?" shouted Mr. Edwards, a man who has never fully trusted the power of a transmitter.

"No, I don't," said Mr. Jackson in the scared monotone of the amateur thrust unexpectedly in front of a microphone and a studio audience.

"This is your life," screamed Edwards. It was a sentence we were to hear a good deal of for the next half hour.

Jackson's life was exposed like a raw nerve more or less in reverse, starting in 1946 with with his marriage and ending in 1931 when he was six years old. After setting each scene, assisted by mood music, Edwards produced the original characters in the drama like Howard Thurston pulling eggs out of the air. During the wedding enactment, for example, out on the stage paraded the best man (Jackson's brother), the minister (Jackson's father), all the relatives and finally, to the strains of Mendelssohn, the bride. Chronology rather than taste, I suspect, persuaded Edwards to keep the baby in the wings until later.

Jackson's war record, marked by splendor and tragedy, was then unfolded with the assistance of sound effects which I found suprisingly unsatisfactory, this being one department where Edwards usually excels. Ping went the sound effects man to indicate Jackson's first wound in the invasion of Normandy. Another ping and Jackson was hit again. The third ping—a very inadequate ping, I must say—recreated the shot that crippled Jackson for life.

"You must have been thinking a lot of thoughts," said Edwards, describing how the soldier lay wounded in the snow all night.

"Yeah, sure was," said Jackson. During the whole program Jackson didn't say much beyond "I see," "Yeah sure" or "That's right."

"This is the part we call the Philip Morris future," Edwards explained. And on came the gifts. Three thousand dollars' worth of equipment for his gun and tool shop and—an anticlimax—a year's subscription to "Popular Mechanics."

"The actual people who shaped his destiny," said Edwards summing it all up, "plus the Philip Morris future." People may shape your destiny but it takes big business, or more accurately, Ralph Edwards, to shape a future.

Times have certainly changed. When I was younger, the gun molls used to shoot down their men, get acquitted and go into vaudeville But the molls have lost their allure (Besides, they don't get acquitted so easily.) In this new sort of vaudeville, a veteran, particularly a crippled one, will draw a bigger house with the same people who used to go look at the molls and for the same reasons.

The Ralph Edwardses are the Bourbons of 1948, scattering largesse among the little people; the patronage of a Ralph Edwards is certainly as valuable, possibly a little more so, than that of Louis XIV. You have to give up a certain amount of dignity and privacy — as did the court clowns and royal mistresses at Versailles — but the material rewards are more than enough to make up for it.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—MONDAY—

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14 (INS)—A very happy and excited Deanna Durbin telephoned to tell me she goes to Italy in the early spring to make a picture for Scalera films. She gets Gosfredo Alessandrinia, who directed "Furia," one of Italy's best movies, as her director. She will take her baby with her.

Nancy Kelly

The agreement was made for her by William Goetz. He will be in on the conferences when a representative of Scalera arrives shortly. Universal-International will distribute the picture, which is the story of an American girl studying grand opera.

Robert Mitchum and his wife have gon to Palm Springs, but before he went he was handed "Operation Malaya" as his next picture at RKO. It will probably start December 1.

Some time ago, Howard Hughes made a "deal" with David Selznick whereby he took over the next Mitchum picture, although the actor was due to go to Selznick. Howard and David share Mitchum contract

This week, I am reliably informed, a compromise idea will be submitted to the government which would prevent the theaters from being completely divorced from the motion picture studio.

The plan is that in every town where 29th, Paramount, Warners and MGM have four and five theaters, they will offer to let a stranger buy two of the houses and operate them independently. This would give competition and eliminate restraint of trade.

Divorcing the theaters completely from the studios would work a great hardship in the industry which has already received many blows.

She will claim she turned down two movie jobs to accept the play because she thought it would help her along the comeback trail. Then, after spending $2,000 on wardrobe and the expense of taking herself to New York, boom, the whole thing is off.

Chit-chat:

Fred MacMurray is sitting back with a cat-that-swallowed-the-canary expression on his face—all because, three hours after he bought "Bail Bond Story" the Los Angeles papers front paged yarns that the bail bond racket here is being exposed. Talk about being timely!

Fred bought the exciting Martin Racki nand Warren Duff yarn out of his own pocket, and considers it the most suspenseful drama since "Double Indemnity."

Now he has told his agent to "package the deal" with himself tossed in for the starring role.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Linda Darnell has made arrangements to adopt a baby boy. She already has a little girl.

The town is talking about Gene Baylos, who scored a triumph at Mocambo opening night. Clark Gable, who seems to be seeing Iris Bynum again regularly, was there with the vivacious lady. Horace Schmidlapp was with Helen Walker, (I understand Schmidlapp is renting a house here as soon as the Carole Landis estate is settled). Peter Lawford and Ann Sothern, and—get this—Lou Holtz with Pat Dane. Keenan Wynn was one of those who applauded again and again. His gal was Betty Butler. The Mark Stevens and the Van Johnsons also were in ringside seats. The smile won't come off Charlie Morrison's face because the Mocambo was jammed to the rafters.

Cary Grant and Ann Sheridan, who have been in Germany making a movie, will go to England for the command performance. I suppose Betsy Drake will appear, too.

Franchot Tone, Burgess Meredith and Charles Laughton go on, too, from Paris, so it looks as if Hollywood will be well represented.

The Danny Kayes telephoned from Italy just before they planed for home. They will return to Hollywood next Thursday. Sylvia said they gave up their plan to go to Switzerland, because she and Danny are so eager to see the baby.

That's all today.

The Mark Stevens and the Van Johnsons also were in ringside seats. The smile won't come off Charlie Morrison's face because the Mocambo was jammed to the rafters.

Cary Grant and Ann Sheridan, who have been in Germany making a movie, will go to England for the command performance. I suppose Betsy Drake will appear, too.

Franchot Tone, Burgess Meredith and Charles Laughton go on, too, from Paris, so it looks as if Hollywood will be well represented.

The Danny Kayes telephoned from Italy just before they planed for home. They will return to Hollywood next Thursday. Sylvia said they gave up their plan to go to Switzerland, because she and Danny are so eager to see the baby.

That's all today.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Do wounded men resent looks and questions?

Answer: Not always, at any rate, report psychologists who interviewed a hundred of them. Men who have been visibly injured resent stares which they regard as due to idle curiosity, but don't usually mind being questioned if they are allowed to drop the subject when they want to. How strong their resentment is, however, depends on how far they have been able to "accept" their injuries as facts which they must make the best of. Ignoring their handicaps entirely hurts their feelings worse than sympathetic recognition of them.

Should You Lock Your Wife In When You Go Out?

Answer: Of course, no sane man would do this literally, but some husbands act as if they would like to. Take the chap who objects to his wife's going to a movie when he attends a lodge meeting because he says he "can't tell what she'd be up to." He forgets, first, that shes' not his small-boy idea of his mother—someone who "lives only for him"; and second, that nowadays he can't force her to be true to him unless she wants to. You can keep your wife's love only if you earn it, but that is the only kind of love worth having.

Can Fear Of Others Make You "Domineering"?

Answer: Certainly; there is no truer saying than that every bully is a coward at heart. The stronger you fear that other people will refuse to give you what you want, or will take advantage of you, the more you will want to get them in your power if you can, and to prove it by making them "toe the scratch" in the most trivial matters. A boss who gets furious at the least infraction of his orders either is unsure of how his own superiors feel about him or doubts his ability to win the cooperation of those who work for him.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Do wounded men resent looks and questions?

Answer: Not always, at any rate, report psychologists who interviewed a hundred of them. Men who have been visibly injured resent stares which they regard as due to idle curiosity, but don't usually mind being questioned if they are allowed to drop the subject when they want to. How strong their resentment is, however, depends on how far they have been able to "accept" their injuries as facts which they must make the best of. Ignoring their handicaps entirely hurts their feelings worse than sympathetic recognition of them.

Should You Lock Your Wife In When You Go Out?

Answer: Of course, no sane man would do this literally, but some husbands act as if they would like to. Take the chap who objects to his wife's going to a movie when he attends a lodge meeting because he says he "can't tell what she'd be up to." He forgets, first, that shes' not his small-boy idea of his mother—someone who "lives only for him"; and second, that nowadays he can't force her to be true to him unless she wants to. You can keep your wife's love only if you earn it, but that is the only kind of love worth having.

Can Fear Of Others Make You "Domineering"?

Answer: Certainly; there is no truer saying than that every bully is a coward at heart. The stronger you fear that other people will refuse to give you what you want, or will take advantage of you, the more you will want to get them in your power if you can, and to prove it by making them "toe the scratch" in the most trivial matters. A boss who gets furious at the least infraction of his orders either is unsure of how his own superiors feel about him or doubts his ability to win the cooperation of those who work for him.

American Legion Plans Rheumatic Fever Hospital

State Department Proposal Outlined

The Department of Maryland American Legion is considering plans for the establishment of a Rheumatic Fever Hospital in Maryland within the next few years, J. Nelson Tribby, Baltimore, state adjutant, told Legionnaires and auxiliary members yesterday at a meeting of Mountain District posts in Grantsville.

Adjutant Tribby complimented posts in the Mountain District for their recent interest in the establishment of a Rheumatic Fever and Heart Clinic here, and referred particularly to the efforts of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 and Voiture No. 164, 40 and 8.

The National Department, about three years ago, Tribby said, became interested in combating Rheumatic Fever as a national project. Last year, Maryland raised only $2,000 toward the project, but about $50,000 in National Department money was spent for rheumatic fever patients in the state.

For the current year, Tribby said, the Maryland Department hopes to raise $25,000 for this purpose. He said the establishment of a clinic here will do much toward the success of the program, and complimented this district for taking the lead.

Urges Co-operation

Informed by Arthur Ramey, district vice-commander and other district legionnaires that a Cumberland civic group had started the Heart Clinic idea here, Tribby said, "Work with them."

Local Legion officials yesterday showed considerable interest in Tribby's announcement that a Rheumatic Fever Hospital will be sponsored as a Legion project. The possibility that such an institution may be established in this area will be probed, it was indicated.

John D. Carmen, of Joppa, state commander of the Legion, named Rheumatic Fever Clinics and Hospitals as one of the three top programs of the State Department this year. The other two are "Child Welfare" and "Community Service."

Carmen told post representatives that veterans' organizations, especially the Legion, must take a more active part in all phases of community service.

The state commander also called attention to this year's "Cigaret Fund" program which takes the place of "Gifts for the Yanks" at Christmas time. Posts are asked to contribtue to a fund to provide cigarets for veterans in veteran hospital facilities.

Exceeded Quota

Vernon Randall, Pikesville, department membership chairman and vice commander of North Central District, outlined membership drive plans. Reports from posts in the district show that this District exceeded its Armistice Day membership quota.

Indications are that Mountain District will have a record 1949 Legion membership and Randall said increases are being reported in all parts of the state. A high percentage of new enrollments and many reinstatements are appearing, he said. The Maryland membership quota for 1949, he said, is 49,000.

George E. Heller, Bedford Va., national field secretary, also spoke of Legion membership efforts and activities.

Earl Poorbaugh, Baltimore, formerly of this city, Boys" State director, complimented Mountain District posts for their interest in the last Boys' State. More delegates went from this district than any other in Maryland, he said, and it is hoped to have 250 boys attend next year. This would be twice as many as the last enrollment.

Twelve of the district's 15 Legion posts were represented. Absent posts included LaVale, Cresaptown and Mt. Savage.

League Plans To Back Bill For Home Rule

Mayor Attends Board Session

A "home rule" measure which would amend the state constitution will be prepared for the 1949 session of the General Assembly, members of the executive board of the Maryland League of Municipalities decided at a meeting in College Park Saturday.

Mayor Thomas S. Post, a vice president of the League, attended the meeting.

He reported that the board will also recommend employing a secretary to remain in Annapolis during the legislative session to keep League members informed regarding measures of interest to them.

Mayor Post said the League is planning to hold a campaign to interest all incorporated communities in Maryland in becoming members.

At present, eight municipalities are members.

The League was reorganized in September to work for passage of legislation advantageous to Maryland cities and to serve as a clearing house for information on problems of municipal government. It had been inactive since 1941.

Mayor Post said a committee was named at Saturday's board meeting to make plans for a general meeting in Baltimore early in January.

National Group Receives Bowling Green Church

Rev. Walter F. Rief Installed As Pastor

Ninety-five charter members of the Reformed Church of Bowling Green were received into the Pittsburgh Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church yesterday in ceremonies in the Bowling Green Fire Hall.

Dr. E. M. Deitrich, McKeesport, Pa., president of the Pittsburgh Synod, received the congregation and also installed the church pastor, Rev. Walter F. Rief.

He was assisted by an installation committee composed of Dr. Ralph S. Weiler, Philadelphia, Eastern Field Secretary of the Board of National Missions; Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Church, Cumberland; Rev. Frank Hiack, Butler, Pa., chairman of the National Missions Committee of the Pittsburgh Synod, and Clayton C. Gillum, Bowling Green, member of the National Missions Committee.

Dr. Weiler welcomed the congregation into the church and Rev. Hiack gave the sermon. Rev. Clapp was liturgist. Rev. Reif was presented for installation by Gillum.

Special music was presented by the choir and Miss Barbara Johnson and Miss Juanita Blank sang a duet.

Of the 95 charter members, eight were added to the rolls for the first time yesterday.

The church began as a Sunday School organized in April by Gillum. Regular services in the fire hall began August 1 when Rev. Reif arrived from New York City. A $12,000 parsonage has been built and plans are underway for a church building.

Gillum explained the Bowling Green organization will remain a mission church until it is no longer supported by the National Missions Committee.

EXTENDING LIMITS-- Grantsville, shown in the above aerial photograph, is extending its corporate limits north and south of the present boundaries. The small Garrett County town is located on Route 40 midway between Negro Mountain and Little Crossings. The population within the corporate limits is 465. Founded over 100 years ago by Hanson Brown, the town was incorporated in 1864 and 1865 by act of the Legislature. It received a second charter in 1878.

Town Of Grantsville Extending Its Corporate Limits North And South

GRANTSVILLE—For many years known as a town with only one street, Grantsville is now extending its corporate limits to the north and south of its famous Route 40 Main Street.

The town has a population of 465 persons within the corporate limits and many of its homes compare favorably with the most modern residences to be found anywhere in Garrett County.

Located in the center of a rich milk-producing section, the dairy business is one of the town's basic industries. Grantsville is also a trading center for poultry. At the present time about 125,000 turkeys are being raised for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays on farms in the Grantsville area.

Coal mining on a limited scale, a new canning factory and the fire brick plant of the Union Mining Company, located in the vicinity of Grantsville, has added to the prosperity of the community, which for many years has been widely known as headquarters for the maple syrup industry of Garrett County.

Grantsville is 25 miles west of Cumberland, 14 miles west of Frostburg, 13 miles from Meyersdale, Pa., and seven miles from Salisbury, Pa.

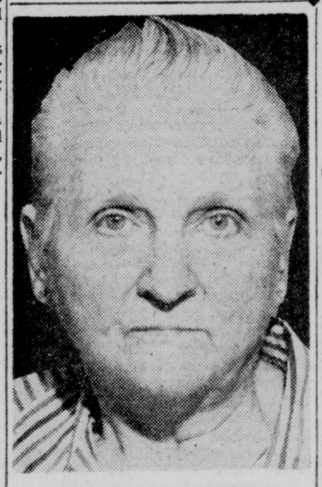
The town, which was founded over a century ago by Hanson Brown, who came to this section from Baltimore, was first located on the historic Braddock Trail, which was cut by an army under General Edward Braddock during the French and Indian War in 1754.

Part of the famous trail can still be seen about a half-mile from the modern Grantsville, which was moved to the National Highway, where it lies midway between Negro Mountain and Little Crossings, two historic points in Western Maryland.

Grantsville was incorporated by an act of the Legislature in 1864-65 and was re-chartered in 1878.

In balloting on November 5, 1872, to determine the county seat of Garrett County received 590 votes, Oakland 653 and McHenry's Glades 456. Grantsville therefore missed being the county seat by only 63 votes.

The present city officials are Nevin K. Miller, mayor, and Lee Beachy, John Hershberger, William Biddington, Henry Patton and Leland Swauger, city councilmen. Milton Rodamer is the city clerk.



MRS JOHANNA WEIMER

Mrs. Johanna Weimer, 132 Grand Avenue, was elected president of the Tri-State Chapter, American Gold Star Mothers, Inc., organized here yesterday in City Hall Auditorium.

Mrs. Weimer is the wife of Elmer L. Weimer, B. and O. conductor, and the mother of Pfc. Claude E. Weimer, who was killed in Normandy June 9, 1944.

Other officers of the organization will be Mrs. Amelia Meredith Kelley, 444 Goethe Street, first vice president; Mrs. Ina Lee Burley, 217 Knox Street, second vice president; Mrs. Sara Jane Millar, Cresap Park, treasurer; Mrs. Anna Kirby, Montreal Avenue, recording secretary, and Mrs. Leah Hosey, 837 Camden Avenue, musician.

More than 35 Gold Star mothers of this area attended yesterday's organization meeting led by Mrs. Eleanor D. Boyd, Long Beach, Cal., national president of the society.

Mrs. Boyd said the Gold Star Mothers are embarking on a program to share with the Veterans Administration in the work for hospitalized veterans. She said the program was a "work and not words" plan designed to offer real aid to the veterans.

The charter for the unit will be kept open for the next sixty days and all who join in that time will become charter members.

Landlords May Seek Rent Opinions

In order to expedite action on landlords' applications for rent adjustments where improvements are contemplated, area rent offices are considering many requests for prior opinions, according to Area Rent Director Walter R. Heath of the Baltimore office.

"Where a landlord is doubtful of the amount of rent he may expect for making structural additions, betterment to a dwelling unit or a complete rehabilitation, he may obtain a prior opinion to warrant his decision before going ahead with his plans," Heath said.

Landlords are required to submit adequate information regarding the improvements proposed. In all cases due allowance is made for increased cost of construction or for fixtures and furnishings where substantial increase in services are rendered.

"In many cases the prospect of improved facilities or services are welcomed by the tenants, who do not seem averse to paying something more, especially where the improvements consist of modern bathrooms, hot water and steam heat," Heath said.

19 Freight Cars Derailed In Two Railway Accidents

Pinto, Uniontown Scene Of Wrecks

A broken wheel on the fifth car caused the derailment of five loaded coal cars and a caboose pulled by a eastbound engine 180 at 1:35 p. m. west of the Pinto road crossing.

The Western Maryland Railway engine, piloted by engineer A. C. Hornick, was en route to Knob Mount Yard from George's Creek. No one was injured and traffic was not blocked.

About 50 feet of track at the west end of the Pinto bridge was in need of repair. An official of the company said the wreckage should be clear by midnight last night.

A Western Maryland engine parked on a siding at a place known as Leith, two miles sought of Uniontown, was hit at 2 p. m. yesterday by a Baltimore and Ohio freight train which apparently hit an open switch and went into the siding.

The Western Maryland train was waiting to take on cars brought by the westbound freight when the collision occurred causing the derailment B. and O. cars loaded with coke and six empties of the Western Maryland. Crew members of both trains jumped to safety.

Approximately 150 feet of track was torn up, halting all traffic on the B. and O. main line between Fairmont, W. Va., and Pittsburgh.

A B. and O. spokesman said he hoped the tracks could be cleared by this morning.

It Only Happens In The Army

It seems a lady, who shall be called Mrs. Johnson, was worried about her son who was stationed at Fort Meade. She wrote the chaplain who replied that she should come down to the post and see for herself that her son was in good hands.

Mrs. Johnson, though, said she was on relief and couldn't afford the trip.

Somehow this exchange came to the attention of Col. Fye, Second Army Public Information Officer. So, to show that the Army has a heart, he was going to see she got to visit her son.

Sometime ago Captain Thomas Stafford, unit instructor for the local Army Reserve, received a letter asking him to see what he could do since Mrs. Johnson lived in Oldtown.

The Oldtown Veterans of Foreign Wars post was persuaded by Capt. Stafford to finance Mrs. Johnson's trip to see her son at Thanksgiving. She was to have dinner as a guest of the Third Cavalry at Fort Meade.

Everyone was agreeable but Mrs. Johnson. It occurred to Capt. Stafford no one had even bothered to ask her. At nine a. m. Friday he started out to give her the glad news.

No one in Oldtown had heard of Mrs. Johnson, no one in the postoffice had heard of Mrs. Johnson, no one at the Welfare Board had heard of Mrs. Johnson.

By 1 p. m. Friday it occurred to a postoffice official that there is an Old Town near Baltimore. Sure enough, that is Mrs. Johnson's home.

Whether or not the Second Army is man enough to recover from the blow and start all over again, Capt. Stafford hasn't been able to determine.

Winifred Road Home Is Damaged By Fire

Two rooms of the home of Mrs. Ruth Brewer, Winifred Road, were badly damaged late yesterday morning when an overheated air duct set fire to a partition of the one-story frame home.

South End and East Side Fire Companies were called to the blaze at 11:25 a. m. and soon brought the fire under control with water from booster tanks in the fire trucks.

Firemen said neighbors had carried all the furniture from the burning home when they arrived so that the only damage was to the kitchen and living room of the dwelling.

Youth Is Badly Hurt When Hit By Automobile

Driver Is Held Pending Probe

A 19-year-old pedestrian was critically injured early yesterday morning when he was struck by an automobile at the intersection of Henderson Avenue and Valley Street.

He was reported doing well last night but plans were being made to administer blood transfusions.

Lt. Edwin R. Lilya, chief of the traffic division, said the driver of

Lt. Lilya said the accident occurred at 12:45 a. m. yesterday when a Buick sedan traveling west on Henderson Avenue and driven by Logsdon struck the Jackson youth who was crossing the intersection from north to south.

He said the car carried the youth for about 81 feet before the vehicle crashed against the iron railing, careened across the highway and came to a stop beyond the driveway of "Bud and Ed's" garage.

Jackson's body was hurtled end over end for another 82 feet after the car struck the railing, Lt. Lilya said. He said the force of the impact left the imprint of Jackson's body on the right front of the car.

Several witnesses, including a crossing watchman and a taxi driver witnessed the accident, police said.

Police said Logsdon and a passenger, Mrs. George A. Boch, left the scene of the accident without giving aid to the injured pedestrian and ran up a nearby alley. They were later apprehended at her home, 217 Pear Street, Lt. Lilya said.

Police said Logsdon told them he was traveling in second gear from 10 to 15 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

Lt. Lilya said Logsdon can be charged with running through a stop sign, failing to give the right of way to a pedestrian at an intersection, reckless driving, excessive speed, leaving the scene of an accident without rendering aid to an injured person and operating a vehicle with fictitious tags.

Wild Rabbits Can Cause Disease Of Tularemia, Health Official Warns

Thorough Cooking Termed Important

"Wild rabbits should be handled with extreme care at every stage between field or forest and the dining room table," Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Department of Health, warns hunters and housewives as the rabbit hunting season gets under way.

"The rabbits that run wild in Maryland can provide good sport and delicious food without endangering health if the animals are handled with reasonable caution," he said.

If a rabbit is diseased, careless handling can cause tularemia—or rabbit fever. This communicable disease is transmitted from rabbits to human beings, usually through direct contact with the infected animal or with objects contaminated by the meat or fur. Each year enough cases of tularemia occur in Maryland to indicate that a considerable proportion of wild rabbits may be infected and capable of giving this serious disease to human beings who handle them without due care.

"The first precaution recommended is to take only apparently healthy rabbits that run away as the hunter approaches, for a cottontail without enough energy to dash for his life is probably sick. For the sake of his own health and that of his family the hunter should shoot only frisky rabbits," Dr. Riley said.

Although all rabbits are not infected with tularemia, a sensible precaution is to handle even apparently healthy rabbits as though they were believed to be possible sources of infection.

Gloves, preferably rubber ones, should be worn when touching the rabbit, especially if there is even a small cut or scratch on the hands. Hands and gloves that have come into contact with the raw meat or fur should be kept away from the face, mouth and eyes. Gloves should be sterilized, refuse and paper that has touched the rabbit should be burned and the hands should be washed thoroughly as soon as the meat has been prepared, according to the health official.

"Adequate cooking is a final safeguard that should never be neglected. To destroy any disease germs that may be present the meat should be cooked at boiling temperature for at least 20 minutes, regardless of whether the rabbit is to be fried, stewed or made into a pie," Dr. Riley said.

American Legion Plans Rheumatic Fever Hospital

State Department Proposal Outlined

The Department of Maryland American Legion is considering plans for the establishment of a Rheumatic Fever Hospital in Maryland within the next few years, J. Nelson Tribby, Baltimore, state adjutant, told Legionnaires and auxiliary members yesterday at a meeting of Mountain District posts in Grantsville.

Adjutant Tribby complimented posts in the Mountain District for their recent interest in the establishment of a Rheumatic Fever and Heart Clinic here, and referred particularly to the efforts of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 and Voiture No. 164, 40 and 8.

The National Department, about three years ago, Tribby said, became interested in combating Rheumatic Fever as a national project. Last year, Maryland raised only $2,000 toward the project, but about $50,000 in National Department money was spent for rheumatic fever patients in the state.

For the current year, Tribby said, the Maryland Department hopes to raise $25,000 for this purpose. He said the establishment of a clinic here will do much toward the success of the program, and complimented this district for taking the lead.

Urges Co-operation

Informed by Arthur Ramey, district vice-commander and other district legionnaires that a Cumberland civic group had started the Heart Clinic idea here, Tribby said, "Work with them."

Local Legion officials yesterday showed considerable interest in Tribby's announcement that a Rheumatic Fever Hospital will be sponsored as a Legion project. The possibility that such an institution may be established in this area will be probed, it was indicated.

John D. Carmen, of Joppa, state commander of the Legion, named Rheumatic Fever Clinics and Hospitals as one of the three top programs of the State Department this year. The other two are "Child Welfare" and "Community Service."

Carmen told post representatives that veterans' organizations, especially the Legion, must take a more active part in all phases of community service.

The state commander also called attention to this year's "Cigaret Fund" program which takes the place of "Gifts for the Yanks" at Christmas time. Posts are asked to contribtue to a fund to provide cigarets for veterans in veteran hospital facilities.

Exceeded Quota

Vernon Randall, Pikesville, department membership chairman and vice commander of North Central District, outlined membership drive plans. Reports from posts in the district show that this District exceeded its Armistice Day membership quota.

Indications are that Mountain District will have a record 1949 Legion membership and Randall said increases are being reported in all parts of the state. A high percentage of new enrollments and many reinstatements are appearing, he said. The Maryland membership quota for 1949, he said, is 49,000.

George E. Heller, Bedford Va., national field secretary, also spoke of Legion membership efforts and activities.

Earl Poorbaugh, Baltimore, formerly of this city, Boys' State director, complimented Mountain District posts for their interest in the last Boys' State. More delegates went from this district than any other in Maryland, he said, and it is hoped to have 250 boys attend next year. This would be twice as many as the last enrollment.

Poorbaugh, by special arrangement with the department, appointed Thomas F. Conlon vice chairman of Boys' State activities for the department.

Twelve of the district's 15 Legion posts were represented. Absent posts included LaVale, Cresaptown and Mt. Savage.

League Plans To Back Bill For Home Rule

Mayor Attends Board Session

A "home rule" measure which would amend the state constitution will be prepared for the 1949 session of the General Assembly, members of the executive board of the Maryland League of Municipalities decided at a meeting in College Park Saturday.

Mayor Thomas S. Post, a vice president of the League, attended the meeting.

He reported that the board will also recommend employing a secretary to remain in Annapolis during the legislative session to keep League members informed regarding measures of interest to them.

Mayor Post said the League is planning to hold a campaign to interest all incorporated communities in Maryland in becoming members.

At present, eight municipalities are members.

The League was reorganized in September to work for passage of legislation advantageous to Maryland cities and to serve as a clearing house for information on problems of municipal government. It had been inactive since 1941.

Mayor Post said a committee was named at Saturday's board meeting to make plans for a general meeting in Baltimore early in January.

EXTENDING LIMITS-- Grantsville, shown in the above aerial photograph, is extending its corporate limits north and south of the present boundaries. The small Garrett County town is located on Route 40 midway between Negro Mountain and Little Crossings. The population within the corporate limits is 465. Founded over 100 years ago by Hanson Brown, the town was incorporated in 1864 and 1865 by act of the Legislature. It received a second charter in 1878.

Town Of Grantsville Extending Its Corporate Limits North And South

GRANTSVILLE—For many years known as a town with only one street, Grantsville is now extending its corporate limits to the north and south of its famous Route 40 Main Street.

The town has a population of 465 persons within the corporate limits and many of its homes compare favorably with the most modern residences to be found anywhere in Garrett County.

Located in the center of a rich milk-producing section, the dairy business is one of the town's basic industries. Grantsville is also a trading center for poultry. At the present time about 125,000 turkeys are being raised for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays on farms in the Grantsville area.

Coal mining on a limited scale, a new canning factory and the fire brick plant of the Union Mining Company, located in the vicinity of Grantsville, has added to the prosperity of the community, which for many years has been widely known as headquarters for the maple syrup industry of Garrett County.

Grantsville is 25 miles west of Cumberland, 14 miles west of Frostburg, 13 miles from Meyersdale, Pa., and seven miles from Salisbury, Pa.

The town, which was founded over a century ago by Hanson Brown, who came to this section from Baltimore, was first located on the historic Braddock Trail, which was cut by an army under General Edward Braddock during the French and Indian War in 1754.

Part of the famous trail can still be seen about a half-mile from the modern Grantsville, which was moved to the National Highway, where it lies midway between Negro Mountain and Little Crossings, two historic points in Western Maryland.

Grantsville was incorporated by an act of the Legislature in 1864-65 and was re-chartered in 1878.

In balloting on November 5, 1872, to determine the county seat of Garrett County received 590 votes, Oakland 653 and McHenry's Glades 456. Grantsville therefore missed being the county seat by only 63 votes.

The present city officials are Nevin K. Miller, mayor, and Lee Beachy, John Hershberger, William Biddington, Henry Patton and Leland Swauger, city councilmen. Milton Rodamer is the city clerk.

If a rabbit is diseased, careless handling can cause tularemia—or rabbit fever. This communicable disease is transmitted from rabbits to human beings, usually through direct contact with the infected animal or with objects contaminated by the meat or fur. Each year enough cases of tularemia occur in Maryland to indicate that a considerable proportion of wild rabbits may be infected and capable of giving this serious disease to human beings who handle them without due care.

"The first precaution recommended is to take only apparently healthy rabbits that run away as the hunter approaches, for a cottontail without enough energy to dash for his life is probably sick. For the sake of his own health and that of his family the hunter should shoot only frisky rabbits," Dr. Riley said.

Although all rabbits are not infected with tularemia, a sensible precaution is to handle even apparently healthy rabbits as though they were believed to be possible sources of infection.

Gloves, preferably rubber ones, should be worn when touching the rabbit, especially if there is even a small cut or scratch on the hands. Hands and gloves that have come into contact with the raw meat or fur should be kept away from the face, mouth and eyes. Gloves should be sterilized, refuse and paper that has touched the rabbit should be burned and the hands should be washed thoroughly as soon as the meat has been prepared, according to the health official.

"Adequate cooking is a final safeguard that should never be neglected. To destroy any disease germs that may be present the meat should be cooked at boiling temperature for at least 20 minutes, regardless of whether the rabbit is to be fried, stewed or made into a pie," Dr. Riley said.

Youth Is Badly Hurt When Hit By Automobile

Driver Is Held Pending Probe

A 19-year-old pedestrian was critically injured early yesterday morning when he was struck by an automobile at the intersection of Henderson Avenue and Valley Street.

He was reported doing well last night but plans were being made to administer blood transfusions.

Lt. Edwin R. Lilya, chief of the traffic division, said the driver of the car, William Louis Logsdon, 29, Route 1, LaVale, who left the scene of the accident, is being held in the city jail pending the outcome of Jackson's injuries.

Lt. Lilya said the accident occurred at 12:45 a. m. yesterday when a Buick sedan traveling west on Henderson Avenue and driven by Logsdon struck the Jackson youth who was crossing the intersection from north to south.

He said the car carried the youth for about 81 feet before the vehicle crashed against the iron railing, careened across the highway and came to a stop beyond the driveway of "Bud and Ed's" garage.

Jackson's body was hurtled end over end for another 82 feet after the car struck the railing, Lt. Lilya said. He said the force of the impact left the imprint of Jackson's body on the right front of the car.

Several witnesses, including a crossing watchman and a taxi driver witnessed the accident, police said.

Police said Logsdon and a passenger, Mrs. George A. Boch, left the scene of the accident without giving aid to the injured pedestrian and ran up a nearby alley. They were later apprehended at her home, 217 Pear Street, Lt. Lilya said.

Police said Logsdon told them he was traveling in second gear from 10 to 15 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

Lt. Lilya said Logsdon can be charged with running through a stop sign, failing to give the right of way to a pedestrian at an intersection, reckless driving, excessive speed, leaving the scene of an accident without rendering aid to an injured person and operating a vehicle with fictitious tags.

19 Freight Cars Derailed In Two Railway Accidents

Pinto, Uniontown Scene Of Wrecks

Nineteen freight cars and a caboose were derailed in two accidents involving Western Maryland Railway trains within a half hour of one another yesterday.

A broken wheel on the fifth car caused the derailment of five loaded coal cars and a caboose pulled by a eastbound engine 180 at 1:35 p. m. west of the Pinto road crossing.

The Western Maryland Railway engine, piloted by engineer A. C. Hornick, was en route to Knob Mount Yard from George's Creek. No one was injured and traffic was not blocked.

About 50 feet of track at the west end of the Pinto bridge was in need of repair. An official of the company said the wreckage should be clear by midnight last night.

A Western Maryland engine parked on a siding at a place known as Leith, two miles sought of Uniontown, was hit at 2 p. m. yesterday by a Baltimore and Ohio freight train which apparently hit an open switch and went into the siding.

The Western Maryland train was waiting to take on cars brought by the westbound freight when the collision occurred causing the derailment B. and O. cars loaded with coke and six empties of the Western Maryland. Crew members of both trains jumped to safety.

Approximately 150 feet of track was torn up, halting all traffic on the B. and O. main line between Fairmont, W. Va., and Pittsburgh.

A B. and O. spokesman said he hoped the tracks could be cleared by this morning.

It Only Happens In The Army

It seems a lady, who shall be called Mrs. Johnson, was worried about her son who was stationed at Fort Meade. She wrote the chaplain who replied that she should come down to the post and see for herself that her son was in good hands.

Mrs. Johnson, though, said she was on relief and couldn't afford the trip.

Somehow this exchange came to the attention of Col. Fye, Second Army Public Information Officer. So, to show that the Army has a heart, he was going to see she got to visit her son.

Sometime ago Captain Thomas Stafford, unit instructor for the local Army Reserve, received a letter asking him to see what he could do since Mrs. Johnson lived in Oldtown.

The Oldtown Veterans of Foreign Wars post was persuaded by Capt. Stafford to finance Mrs. Johnson's trip to see her son at Thanksgiving. She was to have dinner as a guest of the Third Cavalry at Fort Meade.

Everyone was agreeable but Mrs. Johnson. It occurred to Capt. Stafford no one had even bothered to ask her. At nine a. m. Friday he started out to give her the glad news.

By 1 p. m. Friday it occurred to a postoffice official that there is an Old Town near Baltimore. Sure enough, that is Mrs. Johnson's home.

Whether or not the Second Army is man enough to recover from the blow and start all over again, Capt. Stafford hasn't been able to determine.

Winifred Road Home Is Damaged By Fire

Two rooms of the home of Mrs. Ruth Brewer, Winifred Road, were badly damaged late yesterday morning when an overheated air duct set fire to a partition of the one-story frame home.

South End and East Side Fire Companies were called to the blaze at 11:25 a. m. and soon brought the fire under control with water from booster tanks in the fire trucks.

Firemen said neighbors had carried all the furniture from the burning home when they arrived so that the only damage was to the kitchen and living room of the dwelling.
